

Roa. Weavers Win City Title

Take Last Three Games; Injuries Hit Spinners

Captain Speed Hux and his galloping crew of Weavers annexed the last four games of the City Series to win the Softball Championship of Roanoke Rapids.

"Sloppy" Cashwell shut out the Rosemary Spinners in the first game of a double header Saturday 3-0. Davis, Hux and Carlyles led the Weavers and Moye led Rosemary. Cashwell pitched great ball to hand the Spinners their first whitewash and his team mates accorded him great support. Jones pitched for the Spinners.

Old warhorse "Sloppy" Cashwell, not content with his first victory, returned to the mound and won the second game of the double header 9-2. Jones again pitched for Rosemary. "Lefty" Davis Ferrell and Daniels led the Weavers, and Smith, Moye, Hansley, R. Everette got one each to register the Spinners' only knocks.

The Spinners lost the title Sunday when "Sloppy" Cashwell limbered up his arm again and came up with another victory 7-1. Jones pitched for the losers. Gayle, Ryals, Hansley, Lee got one blow each to lead Rosemary, while Davis and Daniels led the Weavers.

Winning Manager, Tiring Of Fish, Rarin' For Steak

Bill Hodges, manager of the champion Weavers, now vacationing at White Lake, was visited by several friends from here last Sunday evening. They found him looking very well but excited and full of questions. He had heard the final results of Sunday's game.

Bill's first question was whether or not Babs Ryals had returned the red shirt he appropriated at the end of the 1935 series. His second question was whether or not Bill Alligood had taken Frank Kemp to the promised steak suppers. He was told neither had been done as Babs was sick and Alligood could not be found.

Hodges sent word back to Alligood that he expected to be home in a few days, that he is now tired of eating so much fish and he would certainly appreciate it if Bill would hold off on those promised steak suppers until he returns to the city.

Misses Sula and Ruby Williams are spending the week at Virginia Beach.

Miss Betsey Witherspoon of Sandston is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. L. Grimmer.

Miss Doris Hedgepeth returned Monday from Portsmouth.

Miss Dorothy Mitchell returned to Lawrenceville Sunday after visiting her sister, Miss Jessie Mitchell.

Finals Chatter

By BILL

Hats off to the new champions, and to their ace pitchers, Cashwell and Gossett, "Sloppy" coming back and winning the last three games to take the flag.

And hats off to the losers, although beset by old man injury and losing Hudson, star third baseman, Birdsong, ace pitcher and outfielder, Sadler, hard hitting centerfielder, and Ryals, who played a great game at short field, still worked hard and were good losers.

A bigger and better season next year. Compliments to Captains Birdsong and Hux for their nice handling of the respective teams—two fine sportsmen.

Good old Bill Hodges. We hope he gains fifty pounds because of his new championship, and he will!

A compliment to Frank Kemp for his hard work this season to make the Roanoke League a success. A mighty swell job, Frank. Let's make it better next year, and by the way, I still owe you a steak supper.

And one big compliment to "Bab" Ryals, who got up out of bed to play in the final game. Many fans did not know about it, but Ryals was very ill.

And we will say it now: "Swamp" Renn, third baseman of the new city champs, may not make the headlines, but that baby can play for me any old time.

All we want is this: If the new chaps have a few—well, I'll be seeing you next year.

So long!

Local Lions Eat Up Visiting Ball Club of Hend'son

It took the electric storm yesterday afternoon to put out the Roanoke Rapids Lions baseball team in their game with the Lions Club of Henderson.

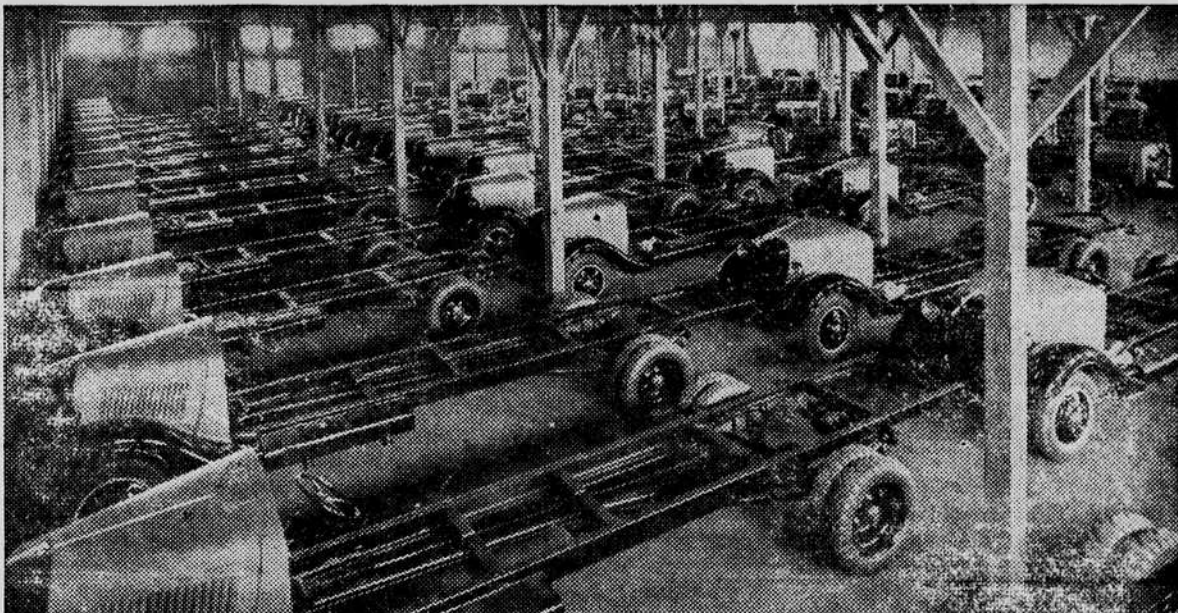

The score in the second inning was 10 to 0 in favor of the hometown club when the storm broke, ending the game and sending up cries of rainchecks which went unheeded.

Zeb Denny had the Zeb Vance boys at his mercy while the big sticks of Tom White and Scoopy Dickens cracked like the lightning overhead. The locals batted around the first inning.

Later in the afternoon, the Henderson team was the guest of the local Lions at a supper.

While the baseball team was losing, the golf team from Henderson was edging out a tournament victory by a scant point over local golfers at Chockoyotte Club.

425 FORD V-8s FOR NORTH CAROLINA SCHOOL BUSES

Above are shown a few of the specially constructed 191-inch Ford V-8 chassis purchased by the State of North Carolina for school buses. The Norfolk branch of the Ford Motor Company is the first assembly plant to produce this type chassis. 350 of the 191-inch chassis were ordered together with 75 Ford V-8 chassis of 157-inches. The entire order has been completed by the assembly plant at Norfolk and is now being conveyed to Hackney Brothers at Wilson, N. C., who are constructing the school bus bodies.

BASEBALL AND SOFTBALL HERE SAT. AFTERNOON

The strong Petersburg Softball team will visit Roanoke Rapids Saturday afternoon to meet our city champs, and the Seaboard baseball team will be in town to take on the newly organized Roanoke No. 2 baseball team at 3 p.m.

Each mill in town has organized a baseball team and beginning Wednesday, Aug. 10th, these teams will start an industrial league, playing league ball Wednesday and Saturday and on Sunday two all-star teams will be selected, one

SCOFF AT TROPIC STEAM-BATH TO PROVE THAT CALVERT COOLS

Waiting to get under way on the three-hundred mile trek into the jungle, members of the Calvert Guiana Expedition made preliminary tests... in the already intense tropical heat... and learned: that Calvert cools—anywhere!

Calvert-financed Expedition to Steaming Guiana Jungle Returns With Conclusive Proof of Calvert Whiskey's Amazing Cooling Properties

Private investigation claimed it... careful experiment showed it... yet deep into the steaming jungle went the Calvert Guiana Expedition to prove it... to check Calvert's cooling reactions under the most adverse of circumstances. And out of the tropic wilderness emerged the facts! Calvert actually cools you off!

How? By driving body heat to the skin surface... where it dissipates, evaporates... leaves your blood refrigerated, your body cooled! Enjoy Calvert tonight—in gentlemanly moderation. Say "Good-bye" to a hot, humid evening... "Hello" to a bright, cheery tomorrow. Call for Calvert!
