LATEST TYPESETTING MACHINE

Above is the new typesetting machine recently installed by The Roanoke Rapids Herald, the latest model Intertype costing over five thousand dollars. This machine sets six different sizes of type, figures and characters, double that of the old machine used by The Herald for many years. Besides setting type for news, ads and headlines, the new machine also is used for setting all kinds of job printing, ruled work and tabulations. This is the newest and most modern typesetting machine in Eastern North Carolina today.

New Tops Recorded In Use of Soy Foods
On Dinner Tables of American Families

STEADY rise in consumption of soy flour gives indisputable evidence of the growing importance of the soy bean as a food product in the United States.

Through household pages of the daily press and government bulletins the American housewife is learning that the soybean is one of the few vegetable sources of perfect protein, and is rapidly adding it to the daily family diet. This is shown in reports of bakers to members of the Soy Flour Association, Chicago. Bakers are finding an increasing demand for their highly palatable and nourishing products containing soy flour, which is practically starch-free, yet rich in nutrition, essential minerals and vitamins.

In stressing the amazing growth of soybean products in the American diet, Hope Needham, skilled food expert, declares the uses "read like a bill of fare, from soup to nuts," which is almost literally correct. She points to the ever-greater consumption of soybean loaf, rolls, nut bread, muffins, cookies, cakes and the like.

On the American table today are found many dishes containing the products of the delicious and nutritious soybean. Such foods include breakfast foods, macaroni, crackers, biscuits, soups, cheese, margarine, coffee substitutes, soy sauce, vegetable milk, infant foods, confections and numerous other articles. In 1934, for instance, much of the 20,907,000 pounds of soybean oil used in this country went into edible food products such as salad oils and butter substances.

The list is small, experts point out, compared with that of the Orient, in parts of which the soybean has long been the basic food product. But a real start has been made here, and the prospect of the soybean becoming a food product of some magnitude is declared to be extremely bright.

The Roanoke Rapids Crippled Clinic, held here the third Wednesday of each month, has extended its work to include a special time for private patients, in addition to the free clinic for those unable to pay. The following letter has been mailed to doctors in this section of the State which explains the new feature of the clinic:

Dear Doctor:

Cole of Greensboro is orthopedic surgeon in charge and conducts clinic from one to four p.m. the third Wednesday in each month. This clinic is free to those unable to pay, but the Kiwanis Club thinks there may be some physicians in the territory served by this clinic who have private patients they would like for Dr. Cole to examine; consequently, the club has consulted Dr. Cole and he states that he will gladly come to Roanoke Rapids in time to consult with the physicians and examine private patients between eleven and twelve-thirty, for which a charge of from one to five dollars will be made. ROBERT TAYLOR IS MEMBER OF CAST IN FILM AT IMPERIAL

Ursula Parrott Story Will Be Shown Mon.-Tue.

WHEN A MALE star like Robert Taylor captivates the feminine hearts of the nation as he has done since the memorable "Magnificent Obsession," it just seems like he cannot make pictures fast enough, so the ever-obliging management of the Imperial has gone back a few months to find the Ursula Parrott story, "There's Always Tomorrow," with Frank Morgan and Binnie Barnes in leading roles, but nevertheless with the handsome Taylor in the cast, to show their Monday-Tuesday patrons next week.

When it comes to a love that is constant, we commend you to that of the role enacted by Binnie Barnes, in the aforementioned article. When Frank Morgan was quite a young man and her boss, she loved him with all her heart and soul. Frank marries Lois Wilson, however, without dreaming of Miss Barnes' affection. So Binnie goes forth in the world and becomes a most successful business woman—while Frank becomes the father of five children. All thru the years Miss Barnes never ceases to love her former boss, however, and almost a quarter-century later calls upon him at his home.

Having spent all of these years being a husband and father of five, Morgan has forgotten there ever was a girl like Binnie Barnes. Frank is very fond of his wife and family, and they like him—especially as he pays the bills and tends the furnace. It breaks our hearts to tell it, but soon Frankie is spending every Thursday night with Miss Barnes at her home. But, don't jump to hasty conclusions. Before the strict censorship there might have been a dash or two of sinning, but what with Hollywood "cleaned up" as it is these days, all Frank and Binnie do is eat sandwiches and drink coffee, while she makes him "feel important," as she explains. If there is one thing a man likes it is to feel important, and if he can't do it in his own home—well, don't be surprised if you find him spending his Thursday nights out! One night four out of the five children find out about papa's Thursday nights, and business picks up in general.

GLENDY FARRELL and Edward Everett Horton are the brilliant co-stars of "Nobody's Fool," which will be shown the Imperial's "bargain day" patrons next Wednesday-only.

MELVYN DOUGLAS and Mary Astor are co-featured in "And So They Were Married," Thursday-Friday bill coming to the Imperial next week with a supporting cast headed by the child stars, Edith Fellows and Jackie Moran. At first glance Edith and Jackie appear to be a couple of little brats, but down underneath one finds they are two little Cupids! Jackie hasn't any mother, and Edith hasn't a father, her mother having "tied the can" to her husband, as the expression has it, after several years of unhappy married life.

Having been reared by his father, whose part is taken by Melvyn Douglas, Jackie doesn't think a great deal of women. Being forever in her mother's company, which role is enacted by Miss Astor, Edith simply cannot abide anything that wears trousers. She has caught some of her attitude from her mama, who believes she is living only for her child.

However, that is before Miss Astor meets Mr. Douglas, up in the snowy wastes of a California winter resort, where both have gone for their off-springs to spend Christmas. Their friendship does not begin auspiciously. In good truth, they hate each other at first. Miss Astor even goes so far as to throw a hard roll at Mr. Douglas in the dining room of the hotel, it smacking him on the end on his manly nose.

TOWN TALK

Miss Ella Lee Taylor of Flora McDonald College is spending her vacation here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor.

Miss Florine Holt and Mrs. Louise Patterson have returned from Nags Head.

J. C. Taylor of Durham visited his sister, Mrs. A. L. Cawthorne, Sunday.

Miss Minnie Johnson and her guest, Miss Margie Caldwell of Wake Forest spent the week-end at Nags Head.

Mrs. W. E. McDonald and Miss Lillian McDonald were visitors in Enfield Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. W. H. Jones is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Wirtz spent Saturday in Durham.

To make things even more complicated, Edith and Jackie get off on the wrong foot with some fancy hair-pulling, scratching and one thing and another. Then Miss A. and Mr. D. begin to thaw out towards each other. A smile here, a pleasant word there and it is evident Miss Astor is beginning to like the boys again. One day their sled jumps the toboggan and while both are seated in the snow, Melvyn proposes and is accepted. Now you may not think sitting in the snow would be conducive to warm, rosy thoughts, but you simply do not know this new romantic love team.

When little Edith and Jackie find mama and papa are headed for the altar, instead of roses they strew broken glass in their pathway, but "And So They Were Married" anyway.

DONALD WOODS in the role of a newspaper reporter is sentenced to a hell-hole of a prison camp by a crooked politician on a trumped-up charge in "Road Gang," fast-action picture coming to the Imperial next Saturday. And what a prison camp it is . . . the men are trussed-up, beaten, starved and if anyone rebels, he is hustled off to work in the Blackfoot coal mines. Compared to the mines, the prison camp is a penthouse apartment with a private bar.

Woods is a spirited fellow, and as the warden is a pal of the politicians, it isn't long until our hero is found guilty of behavior that necessitates his presence in those mines. The outlook is pretty black, of course, but it is even blacker up

However, there's a girl who loves Woods, a smart, energetic person who is resolved to wreck the political machine—and when it comes to throwing a monkey wrench into machinery, give us a determined woman every time.

"Road Gang" is "raw-meat" melodrama that is exciting and moves with rapidity. It should be a satisfactory offering for a Saturday show.

SAN FRANCISCO IS A STIRRING DRAMA OF BARBARY COAST

Star Studded Cast in New Film at Peoples

THE ANNOUNCEMENT that "San Francisco," stirring melodrama of the Barbary Coast, will be shown next Wednesday-Thursday at the Peoples is easily the "big news" of the theatrical week in Roanoke Rapids, however all three city houses continue with programs that are hard to pass up.

"HIGH TENSION," Monday-Tuesday attraction at the Peoples treats deep sea diving in a farcical rather than dramatic manner, and emerges as a fast-moving and very satisfactory comedy, with Brian Donlevy and Glenda Farrell in the leading roles.

Donlevy is seen as a diving expert with a sort of "Zioncheck Zipper" personality. He carries the brunt of the story, as it were, getting himself involved in scrapes ashore but gaining forgiveness from his boss, whose part is played by Robert McWade, and his sweetheart, Miss Farrell. When it comes to laying cables 30 fathoms under water, Donlevy is said to be the best in the business, and after all, 30 fathoms is pretty deep to lay anything.

However it appears that the ocean is not all Brian takes a dive for. He fairly takes a "nose dive" for every corner bar room, and when off the job hits the high places so hot and heavy that when he is not in "deep water" during working hours, he is usually in "hot water" thru some escapade of his. During a barroom brawl, Norman Foster befriends him with the result that Donlevy teaches him the diving business, and later, when Norman is on his own, Brian saves him from a watery grave in the best Hollywood tradition.

"High Tension" has been well handled with concentration on the comedy elements with the result that there are some very humorous sequences.

IF YOU have been searching around for something in the shape of an earthquake recently, and feel that the recent cyclones at Greensboro and Warrenton were not fast enough we suggest you may easily experience all of the thrills of such a spectacle without the attendant horror by going to the Peoples next Wednesday or Thursday to see "San Francisco." For in it, the picturesque city of the West Coast is split length-wise, cross-wise, broken into bits and the pieces either burned or washed away, in just about the most tremendous display of trick photography that has ever come out of Hollywood.

Swift on the heels of "Fury," MGM has produced another film that immediately looms as one of the year's best. It co-stars Clark Gable and Jeanette MacDonald, with Spencer Tracy, Jack Holt, Jessie Ralph and Ted Healy in prominent roles.

It's our venture the feminine fans will get extra heart-beats out of seeing their Clark in this picture, and even the males will admire the work of big Strong-Man Gable as a tough again—obviously the sort of role he likes best.

As "Blackie" Norton, Gable is the owner of the Barbary Coast's most colorful cabarets. He is seen as a powerful influence in the community, and one that Spencer Tracy, in the role of a Priest, thinks could be for good, but Blackie refuses to accept God.

Out of the Midwest comes Jeanette MacDonald, daughter of a minister, forced to sing for Blackie's patrons in order to keep body and soul together. There is a villain of the upper set, whose role is admirably portrayed by Jack Holt, who sets his cap for Miss Mac-ald, and offers her the opportunity to sing in Grand Opera instead of Blackie's cabaret. Now Jeanette dearly loves Blackie, but it isn't long before she is singing on San Francisco's right side of the railroad tracks. There is strife between Blackie and her, and altho good Father Tracy does his best to straighten it out, it takes an earthquake to knock some sense into bull-headed Gable's thick skull.

There is one excellent scene where Miss MacDonald meets Jessie Ralph, who portrays the part of Holt's aristocrat mother. Miss Ralph tells Miss MacDonald she needn't be afraid of San Francisco's so-called "aristocracy," explaining that she unquestionably rates in the "400" but that she actually came to the Western city to "take in washing," and that to his dying day her husband never felt comfortable in a coat at the dinner table. In short, the glorious Western city was built by a group of restless souls who had "romance in their heart and dynamite in their blood," she says.

The earthquake is the climax of the story, and it provides an excellent one. Buildings crumble, fleeing inhabitants seemingly are buried under tons of debris, and it is a hideous, soul-searing spectacle, admirably filmed. In the closing scenes, Gable at last accepts the church and Miss MacDonald.

"San Francisco" is being held over for the third week in Richmond, where we saw it a few days ago, and is enjoying long runs at all class "A" houses.

SUPREME DICTATOR-ELECT, LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE

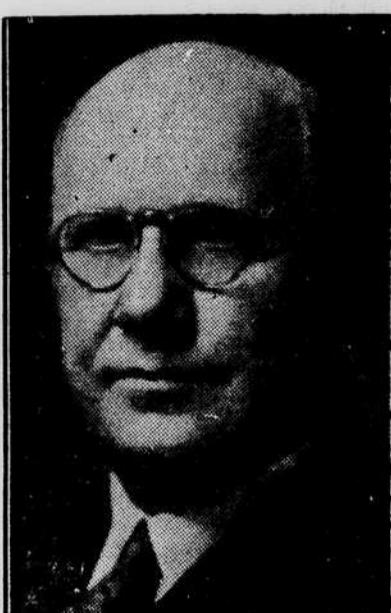

Chicago, July 4. — In today's session of the Supreme Lodge of the World, Loyal Order of Moose, William A. Anderson, of Indianapolis, Indiana, was unanimously elected to the office of Supreme Dictator. Other important elections were: William J. Egan, Newark, N. J., Supreme Vice Dictator; Judge Roy H. Williams, Sandusky, Ohio, Supreme Prelate, and Joseph Lilly, Des Moines, Iowa, Associate Justice, Supreme Forum. Mrs. Eva Starkey, of Lynn, Mass., was elected Grand Agent, Women of the Moose.

Mr. Anderson is a builder—of business structures, of Moose lodges, and of men. It happened a score or more years ago that Indianapolis Lodge gave a street fair, and instead of making money, as expected, lost it. The building company for which Mr. Anderson was engineer was the largest creditor, and the company bade him join the lodge and watch the financial proceedings in its interest. Before he realized it, Mr. Anderson became deeply interested in the Moose.

Soon it was proposed to establish Mooseheart, the Child City of the Moose, in Illinois, where nearly two thousand orphaned children were to be given a home, a high-school education, and instruction in a trade. Mr. Anderson quickly found himself definitely attached to the Moose and engrossed in its aims.

While he was engineering some of the largest building projects in Indianapolis, he found time to reorganize Indianapolis Lodge.

In time the Supreme Lodge of the Order took notice of him. "There's a man we need in the Supreme Council," was the expressed opinion of the Supreme Officers, indicating Anderson. And so, along with his duties at home, Mr. Anderson was instructed to find time to undertake the responsibilities of a member of the Supreme Council of the Supreme Lodge. Again was judgment justified. Again promotion followed. At the July, 1934, Convention at Atlantic City, the delegates unanimously elected Mr. Anderson to the office of Supreme Prelate, and at the July, 1935, Convention at Boston, he was

WILLIAM A. ANDERSON

Newly Elected Head of Moose Order unanimously elected to the office of Supreme Vice Dictator.

His judgment always is keen. He is quick to give credit to others, and he can be depended upon in emergencies. For twenty-six years Mr. Anderson has been secretary of Indianapolis Lodge, and so popular is he that never has there been a man to contest the office which he holds. It is the consensus of opinion that no man ever will want to stand against him, for in the state as well as in the national councils of the Order, he is a tower of strength that stands alone.

Mr. Anderson was educated in the common schools. He served an apprenticeship as a carpenter and joiner, and later took up architectural work at the American Architectural School in connection with the Armour Institute. After completing his architectural course he was employed by a large contracting company. For a short period he took over the agency for the Sidman Ventilating Company, one of the pioneer companies in air cooling systems.

He is a Thirty-second Degree Mason, Scottish Rite, and member of the Improved Order of Red Men. He has one son, Russell E.

GLASS COMES TO THE HOME

We live in an era of glass—glass hats, glass cooking utensils, even glass fabrics, but more particularly glass has found an important place in every part of our homes. Almost without our realizing it, glass has become an extremely important material in the construction and decoration of the American Home.

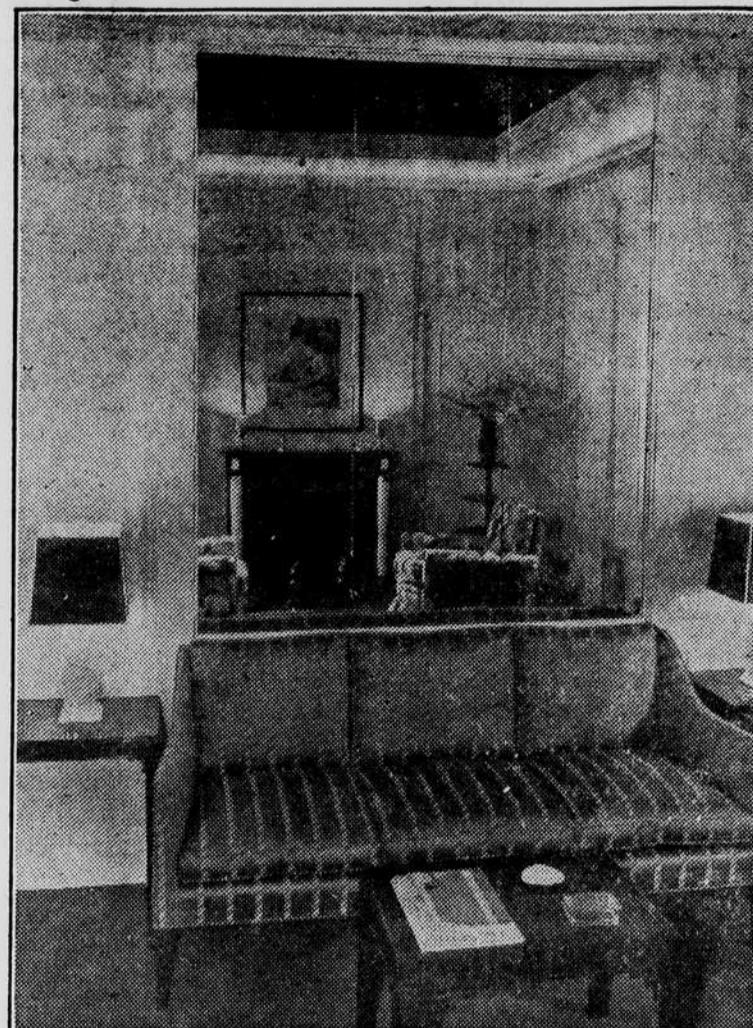

Windows are increasing in size and number; the quality of glass used is better. Plate glass, now made by a Pittsburgh Glass concern in a thinner and less expensive form, is coming more and more to replace ordinary window glass. Because of its highly polished surface, plate glass is superior in appearance and is more easily cleaned.

In the kitchen, we find glass shelves instead of wood. More durable, they are easy to clean and the contents of even the higher shelves can be easily seen from below. We find partitions of white or tinted glass used to separate kitchen from breakfast alcove, lessening the boxed-in feeling of a solid opaque wall. Glass tops for pastry tables are practical and efficient, and incidentally, are a way of modernizing old equipment.

In the dining room, we find both glass and mirrors. Large mirror sections over buffets and fireplaces add spaciousness and dignity to even a small room. If the room is narrow as well, heavy plate glass shelves across the corner provide an admirable substitute for a serving table.

The living room has dozens of uses for glass. Mirrors over mantel or sofa replace heavy pictures or paintings; mirror sections between windows to throw the area into one unit; mirrors at the far end of a long narrow room to draw daylight where it is most needed. These are only a few of the uses, not to mention glass built-in book shelves or corner cupboards, glass tops for tables and every sort of decorative glass accessory under the sun.

Hallways, particularly entrance halls, have been somewhat more neglected. The small mirror hung over a table is giving way to an entire mirror wall, partly to make a narrow space look wider and partly for the convenience of a full-length view of one's ensemble. Many a coat closet now boasts a mirror hung on the inner side of the door where guests may apply a dab of powder or comb a stray lock without going upstairs.

Mirror wall over sofa gives feeling of space and increases light.

In bedroom and bath, mirrors come into their own and become necessities. Dressing table and make-up mirrors come first. If it is possible to place the dressing table in the corner of the room, mirrors on the wall both behind the table and at the side permit a more satisfactory view of the head at all angles, yet leave the hands free (a frequent disadvantage in using a hand mirror). A full length mirror in closet or bathroom door (or both) is generally demanded nowadays, and with really good mirrors lower in price than ever before, they are no longer in the luxury class.

Glass shelves beside the bath tub, to hold dusting powder, bath salts, and even manicure equipment, are inexpensive enough for the most modest home, but will prove a definite convenience. Entire walls of carra glass, either in white or color, are as beautiful to look at as they are lasting and easy to clean.

Glass is, without doubt, more and more with us. And just what future part it will play in our lives and homes is largely in the hands of science—which has performed the improbable for us so many times.

"PEOPLE READ HERALD ADVERTISING" which undoubtedly explains within itself why the HERALD carries by far more local and national advertising than any other weekly newspaper in Halifax County.

During the month of May alone the HERALD carried 23,933 Agate Lines (approximately 2,000 column inches) of National display advertising for 28 foreign accounts. This is in addition to an even larger amount for local advertisers.

SOME local advertisers in SOME TOWNS may patronize their home-town newspaper because they feel it a "civic duty," but this type of customer would be a rank stranger to us, nor can we say we would be desirous of him. While he might be classed as a "Celestial Being" up above, here on earth only one term could possibly describe him, and that is to say he is a "poor business man."

The months of JULY and AUGUST may be looked forward to by thrifty shoppers for bringing the customary MID-SUMMER CLEARANCE SALES at various city stores. To the advertiser, the most economical, result-getting way to conduct these sales is by using HERALD advertising space. To the buyers, we point out as a timely suggestion that it will be well worth your while to look for these announcements in future issues of the HERALD during the next few weeks.

REV. KERMIT TRAYLOR CALLED TO CHRISTIAN CHURCH FOR 6 MONTHS

The Reverend Kermit Traylor has been called by the church to fill the pastorate of the Christian Church of Roanoke Rapids until the first of January.

He has held student pastorates in Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky and was assistant pastor in Jackson Boulevard Church, Chicago.

Mr. Traylor was born on a farm in Eastern Alabama where he worked until he left home to go to High School in Roanoke, Alabama, from which he graduated in 1929. The following Fall he entered Atlanta Christian College, Atlanta, Ga. and from there he went to Atlantic Christian College in Wilson where he received his A. B. degree in 1933, graduating cum laude. In 1935 he received the B.D. degree from Vanderbilt University and followed this with a year's work on his Master's degree at the University of Chicago.

A young bachelor, Mr. Traylor is one of seven brothers, all over six feet tall. He himself is 6 feet 6 inches. Which may account for his activity in athletics, particularly basketball. While in undergraduate college he was All-State center on the basketball team of the Little Seven Conference of N. C. and high scoreman in intramural basketball at the University of Chicago. He was All-City forward in professional basketball in Nashville, Tenn.

His address here is 915 Hamilton Street, his phone number R 530-6. Mr. Traylor says he is enjoying his stay here and is looking forward to some effective service in this fine city.

City Series To Start Saturday

Roanoke No. 2 Weavers vs Rosemary No. 3 Spinners

Rosemary No. 3 Spinners will meet Roanoke No. 2 Weavers for the City Championship. The seven game series will start Saturday, July 18th, at Simmons Park with a single game beginning at 4:00 P. M. The two teams will meet in a double-header the following day, Sunday, beginning at 3:00 P. M. The title of City Champions will go to the teams winning four out of seven games.

The same two teams met last year with Rosemary winning in a stunning upset after dropping the first two games. The Spinners this year have been managed by Russell Birdsong, whom baseball fans will remember for his star work on the diamond. They have come thru a hard league schedule and recently suffered a hard blow with the loss of James Hudson, star third baseman who broke his left shoulder in an auto accident. With the exception of Hudson the team will line up with its usual outfit. Birdsong today confirmed the report that Earnest "Lanky" Lee would start Saturday for the Spinners. The right hander has a season's record of eighteen wins and three defeats. "Bomber" Moye will do the catching.

Manager "Speed" Hux and his hard hitting crew of No. 2 Weavers will enter the series with full strength. Hux is a star first sacker on the team that he manages has really made a wonderful season's record with the downtowners. In "Sloppy" Cashwell, "Nub" Gossett, and "Fireball" Bailey, Manager Hux can boast of the best pitching staff in the city. While the playing of "Lefty" Davis and Pete Ferrell in the outfield and Lyles and Simpson in the infield has been of the best. Hux today stated that he was undecided, but that the veteran "Sloppy" Cashwell would probably get the pitching assignment for the first game; the team otherwise will start exactly as they have the whole year.

The parade will start Saturday from Roanoke Junction at 2 P. M. ending at the Ball Park in time for both teams to warm up. The first ball will be tossed out by Frank Williams with T. W. Mullen receiving. The game will start at exactly 4 P. M. Admission 15c and 10c. Grandstand free. Season tickets for the series will be available at reduced rates. The crack Rosemary Band directed by Jay Sanders, Tarheelia's most noted bandmaster, will play. Cheering sec-

Finals Chatter

Winners are hard to pick, boys, but you will have an edge with Cashwell, Gossett and Bailey. And don't forget Hudson. Can "Lanky" Lee hurl every game for the Spinners?

One sure thing, the team that wins four out of seven will be city champs.

Both finalists won three straight in the semi-finals. Patterson and Roanoke No. 1 going out via the Louis route.

Here's a silent prayer: Let good old Bill Hodges come back from sick leave in good condition. Bill's in Southern Pines, doctor's orders, taking a rest. A swell guy, good sport! Here's hoping, Bill.

Questions we would like answered: Who is the blonde that comes to all the games? Who will Birdsong play at third? Jones or Smith? Who will win the series? Will Cashwell win every game he starts?

We nominate for our Hall of Fame this week: "Bab" Ryals, because he, like Father Time, goes on forever. Pete Ferrell because of his graceful way of catching fly balls. "Lefty" Davis because he never kicks unless he has a very good reason; and last but not least, the Rosemary Girls Softball team for winning the city championship. Atta girls!

See you later!

CHANCE YOUNG PLAYERS

Asheville Team To Give Tryouts To All Boys At Charlotte

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 17— are soon to be given an open Young baseball players of this opportunity to demonstrate—under the watchful eyes of highly competent scouts—whether or not they have the ability to play the game professionally, according to an announcement to day by Oliver French, president of the Asheville Baseball Club of the Piedmont League.

The Asheville Tourists, in an effort to find new talent, French stated, will offer boys this opportunity in a try-out camp conducted at Robbies Field on South Mint Street in Charlotte starting July 27. The camp will continue approximately one week.

Boys between the ages of 17 and 23, who believe they have the ability to play baseball professionally are eligible to attend the camp in Charlotte, French stated. Boys need no recommendations to attend. All they have to do is present themselves at Robbies Field at 9 o'clock the morning of July 27. The only requirements are that boys finance their own trips to Charlotte and their living expenses while here and bring their own shoes, gloves and uniforms. No fee is charged boys who attend.

STATE COLLEGE TEXTILE SCHOOL PLACES ALL ITS 1936 GRADUATES

The Textile School of North Carolina State College this year graduated the largest class in its history and every graduate has been placed in a textile position. A large percentage of these young men have been located in North Carolina, which would seem to indicate that the textile industry offers North Carolina boys an opportunity to secure employment in their own native state.

Dr. Thomas Nelson, Dean of the Textile School, stated recently that he had been unable to supply all the requests for graduates which came to him. He said that in his opinion, the scientific improvements of recent years in textile machinery, processes of manufacturing, and methods of distribution, made the textile industry a more fertile field than ever before for college trained men. Today State College Textile graduates are filling responsible positions in every phase of this great industry and the demand for graduates of this institution is steadily increasing.

For two consecutive years the Textile School of North Carolina State College has enrolled more full time day students than any other textile school in America.

Some idea of the wide reputation of this School can be gained by observing that during the past year the homes of its students ranged from Canada to Mexico and to other foreign countries.

UP AND DOWN WITH THE
The Avenue Editor

This is not our own but was suggested by a Herald reader: A long time ago people thought the world was flat; later they found out it was round; but now some think it's crooked. Our idea is that there have always been crooked people in this world, always will be; people whose minds and souls are so warped they will never get things straightened out. But this is a minority. Sometimes it grows; sometimes it lessens. It is always a minority. This may happen to be a period when crooked folks are permitted to get by with things, but history shows us there is always a revulsion and then we have less of it for a spell. No. The world is not crooked today. If the time ever comes that a majority of folks get that way, then there will never be a chance to swing back to honesty. And that time has not come. And there have always been enough honest-to-goodness folks to keep it from happening.

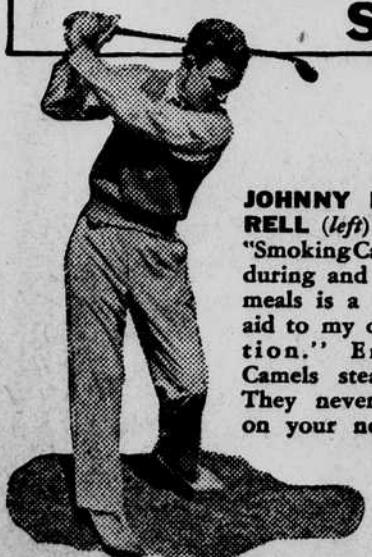

Rumors are that another big store has its eye on Roanoke Rapids and has been clocking the crowds for a suitable location. This is done by men who station themselves near the points in question and count the number of people who pass those particular locations. They go unnoticed because they carry the small counting machines concealed in one hand. To the average passerby they are leaning against a pole smoking a cigarette and just letting the rest of the world go by.

White lines across the Avenue at street intersections are there for a purpose. They are safety zones where those crossing the Avenue are supposed to pass. It will be twice as expensive for a car driver to hit a pedestrian in one of those white lines. They mean to slow down at all corners and watch for those crossing the streets. By the same token, the person who jaywalks, crosses the street in the middle of the block, is subject to less sympathy. Should he get hit when crossing at a place he is not supposed to, the blame is on him rather than on the driver who hits him. Children should be coached by their parents to cross only at corners between the white lines.

Speaking of checkers, there is another class which you may not have noticed. They are the theatre checkers. When a company produces a particularly good film, they do not sell it outright but on a percentage basis. This means that the producer gets a guarantee and so much of the gross take. They send checkers to the theatres to count the crowd and check the ticket-takers. Of course, they do not doubt anybody. And of course, the exhibitors just love it. The recent prize-fight picture was so checked.

Crowds from all sections saw the Schmeling-Louis fight film here this week. We saw folks there who had not been to a picture show in a long time. Yes. We saw it twice too. Afraid we might miss something the first time. Comments: it was the best fight film yet shown; it was taken from three different angles which kept it from getting tiresome; Schmeling fought a heady fight, has a powerful right; it popped into the microphones every time it landed on that unprotected jaw; Lou-

CAMELS COSTLIER TOBACCO

NEW PRISON CAMP FOR COUNTY AT A COST OF $30,000.

To Be Located Between County Home and Halifax

The State Highway Department has agreed to build a new, permanent prison camp in Halifax County at a total estimated cost to them of $30,000.00, it was learned today. The new camp will have brick or concrete barracks, and is to be located between Halifax and the County Home. There will be accommodations for at least 100 prisoners.

Arrangements for the construction of the new camp were made by a delegation from the county headed by J. W. Whitaker, chairman of the County Board of Commissioners, who appeared before the State Highway Department in Raleigh yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Coburn spent Wednesday in Lynchburg. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. King were visitors in Littleton Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Northington and Mrs. Lethia Cooper spent Wednesday in Richmond.

is was a whipped man after the third round, the first hard right to the jaw; he showed power when he came back to get bumped down in the 4th for the first time in his short career, stayed on for eight more; Pendleton Grizzard, fighting expert, says Joe Louis will come back and be heard from later; his reasons: he took plenty, he lacks experience; the first he has, the second he can get. Dempsey at his best could have whipped both of them. He always followed thru, something Schmeling failed to do on several occasions. To see it from a theatre seat was better than from a $25 seat in the Yankee Stadium. One saw more of the actual fighting.

A young lady, who has been visiting relatives in Roanoke Rapids for the past several months, on leaving for her home in South Carolina writes us the following: "Gee, how glad I shall be to gaze upon the Blue Ridge foot hills once again." We are not sure just why she wrote that. We choose to think it is simply a case of homesickness, the nostalgia of one who raised in the hill country longs to get away from the flatness of the coastal plains and back into the rolling country with the towering, encircling background of dark hills. On the other hand, we can recall our own feeling after living in a valley of the hills for years—a feeling which gradually became oppressive—a feeling of being hemmed in, cut off from the rest of the world by those everlasting mountains. It seems to take much to satisfy us and that much not long.

Miss Hazel Cobb has returned from Washington, D. C. where she visited her brothers.

COACH HOYLE HAS REMARKABLE SIX YEAR RECORD HERE

Teams Win 90 Baseball Games With Nine Losses

Coach Cranford Hoyle, for the past six years head coach of football and baseball at Roanoke Rapids High School, shows a remarkable record according to the files of The Roanoke Rapids Herald over that period.

Two of his football teams won North Eastern Conference championships, after which Roanoke Rapids was asked to withdraw from the Conference because of lack of competition. Another team went into the finals for the championship of Eastern North Carolina.

The baseball record is even more impressive. In the six years, under Coach Hoyle, Roanoke Rapids won two State championships, went to the finals a third year and won the Northeastern Conference championship three years.

The big coach has never had a losing year in either sport for the six year period. The totals show his teams won 42 football games to the opponents 11; they won 90 baseball games to the opponents 9.

His year by year record is as follows:

FOOTBALL

1930—Won 7, lost 2.
1931—Won 9, lost 1—Northeastern Conference Champions.

1932—Won 9, lost 0—Northeastern Conference Champions. Asked to withdraw from Conference because of lack of competition.

1933—Won 5, lost 3—his worst football season due to building an entirely new team.

1934—Won 6, lost 2.
1935—Won 6, lost 3—but tied for Eastern Carolina championship

BASEBALL

1931—Won 15, lost 2—Won Northeastern Conference championship and also defeated Carolina Freshmen.

1932—Won 20, lost 1—Won State championship; won Northeastern Conference championship.

1933—Won 16, lost 2—Lost in final of State championship; won Northeastern Conference championship. After winning Conference three years in row, asked to quit Conference for lack of competition.

1934—Won 13, lost 1—Went to Eastern finals at Chapel Hill.

1935—Won 14, lost 0—Won State Championship and in post-season game defeated Woodrow Wilson High of Portsmouth, Va., Tidewater champions.

1936—Won 12, lost 3.

Building back again for the coming year, Coach Hoyle says his material is better and more experienced than any in recent years for both football and baseball. We think his six year record stands unexcelled among High School coaches over the same period of time.

Coach Hoyle graduated from Guilford College in 1929 where he was a star guard. The fall of 1929 he was assistant football coach at Guilford, coming to Roanoke Rapids High School the Fall of 1930 where he has been ever since ringing up all-time records in local sport annals. As a sideline, he teaches physical education and history.

Miss Irene Turner spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. M. A. Turner, in Weldon.

A CHALLENGE TO THE PARTY

The Democratic Party in North Carolina has been challenged and it must answer that challenge before it is too late. Not only its ancient political foes, but also those within the ranks of the party are demanding election law reforms.

The recent Democratic primaries, June 6th and July 4th, have opened the eyes of the people of this State to the many faults in the present primary laws. To charge fraud and corruption, in view of the action of the State Board of Elections this week, is futile. The elections are over and the official counts have been made.

But the faults remain and the cry from one end of the State to the other is for immediate and drastic changes. We do not charge the party with a deliberate attempt to defend laws which are unfit to be on the books: we do charge that the last session of the legislature had an opportunity to help the situation and refused. Our own Senator advocated abolishing the absentee ballot, about which so much scandal has been raised in the past two elections. He was voted down but today there are thousands in the State who know he was right and who know the Democratic Party would have been much better off had that reform been made.

The absentee ballot must go along with other loopholes and chances for evil in our present system. The system of having any person to assist, with the wholesale assistance that follows, must be changed. Poll workers must be done away with. Extra safeguards must be thrown up to insure fair voting and fair counting.

As long as these evils or appearances of evil exist, our party stands challenged and vulnerable. The youth of today are the voters of tomorrow. The youth of today is graduating by the thousands from our High Schools. They are independent; thinking for themselves; they will need no assistance, will ask for no assistance.

This enlightened electorate of tomorrow will demand these election reforms to the end that all elections will be held honestly and fairly and every candidate will get exactly what is coming to him, no more, no less. If the Democratic Party does not make these changes, your electorate of tomorrow may turn elsewhere for relief.

We urge the next session of the legislature to give us better election laws and thus preserve the integrity and the future of the Democratic Party in North Carolina.

THE A. F. OF L. SPLIT

The eyes of the nation turn anxiously to the bitter struggle now being waged between two factions in the American Federation of Labor. By this time, drastic action may have been taken by those in the majority to oust the minority which is led by John L. Lewis.

The group of labor leaders led by Lewis are for unionizing labor by industries instead of by crafts. The American Federation of Labor is made up of many craft unions and this majority refuses to agree with Lewis and his crowd. The result has been a bitter feud between rival labor leaders, each trying to carry his point and thus hold his job.

When the insurgents began a drive to unionize the steel industry as a whole, paying no attention to the various crafts in the industry, the lid blew off and William Green, president of the A. F. of L., summoned the Lewis group before the executive committee, now in session. They refused to appear and the rift became greater.

Meanwhile, the Lewis group are going ahead with attempts to unionize the steel industry, one which has always maintained the open shop principle. They are meeting with resistance by that industry which says its workers are satisfied and have their own agencies thru which to carry on collective bargaining with their employers. The industry says it will not make it a condition of employment that a person belong to any organization.

What worries the rest of the country is that the steel industry may be slowed up in case strikes are called. This will affect every business in the country, starting with railroads and heavy building and coming on down to the smallest store in the country. The public which will thus be affected and injured is much perturbed at this possibility of slowing up general prosperity which is now evident.

Organized labor thus faces two major problems. It stands to lose the goodwill which the general public has had for it and which it must have in order to make gains. And it faces a bitter fight within its own ranks, a fight which has been brought on by the selfish ambitions of its own leaders, each seeking to better his own position rather than that of those whom he is supposed to represent.

VITAL STATISTICS

Vital statistics of vital importance to Halifax County show the death rate of white and colored about the same, the birth rate among the colored five times that of the white in all the county outside of Roanoke Rapids. The population today is about evenly divided. At the present rate, 50 years from now there would be about five times as many colored as white in Halifax County. We talked to a well-to-do white man who had a dozen brothers and sisters. He has no children.

KNOCK KNOCK FAD IS NEWEST MENACE TO CIVILIZATION

Idiosyncrasy Sweeps the Country Like Wildfire

HERALD OFFERS THEATRE PASSES FOR NEW IDEAS

You Might as Well Get In as You Will Suffer Anyhow

By HOWARD HANCOCK
CHALK UP another victory to the "nuts" of the country, and give them credit for putting over the latest, and by no means most sensible, fad that has been sprung on an unsuspecting public in the current "knock-knock craze", which threatens to be forty-times as popular as "So's your old man," Mah Jong, Cross-word puzzles or Yo Yo balls ever were.

The fad apparently originated in Philadelphia just before, or during, the Convention a couple of weeks ago, and it hit the Quaker City more viciously than seventeen-year locusts hit Roanoke Rapids. They call it "Knock, Knock," and there appears to be no possible escape. Here is an example of how it works:

After a hot, busy, tired day you finally creep into your bed for sleep. Suddenly you hear two raps upon your door. Quite naturally you inquire: "Who's there?" "Panther," a voice exclaims. Now what could one say to that? Perhaps you think, you hadn't heard right. Perhaps it was all a nightmare, or it seems entirely possible it was Zioncheck. "Panther who?" you shout; triumphantly, gleefully, a voice answers you back: "Panther what I wear. What do you wear?"

And so it goes, far into the night. Those who have become acquainted with this latest idiosyncrasy seem to live for little else. Apparently it sprang up as a sort of mental perversion in Philadelphia. Now, it appears that one of the nation's gravest dangers is that the "knock-knock" curse will spread. I explained the fad to a few of my friends. Believe you me, I have never regretted any circumstance more keenly in my life.

There must be at least ten thousand variations, and all of them are "worse". Last week-end, for instance, at a resort hotel on the coast I heard a nearby diner rap twice on the wall as I came down the steps. "Who's there?" I inquired, fully making up my mind to move from the building. "Dynamite," was the answer, and upon inquiring "Dynamite who?" I was informed: "Dynamite for me, but she wouldn't for you."

There's no telling when or how relief will come. A friend to whom I had explained the fad (in a weaker moment) sprang this one: "Knock, Knock". "Who's there?" "Esslinger." "Esslinger who?" "Esslinger party over the fourth of July." Or there's the one about: "Knock, Knock." "Who's there?" "Idaho." "Idaho who?" "Idaho lot rather go to the seashore than the mountains."

Maybe we can expect some relief from the next session of the Legislature. Anyway, moving along on this wave of insanity that is sweeping the country by press, by word of mouth, and by radio, the HERALD will offer five free tickets to the Peoples Theatre, for the next few weeks, to the five persons sending in the best, most original

Not wishing to offend I responded "Who's there?" The surprising answer was "Amonia." Dutifully I asked "Amonia who?" Triumphantly he said: "Amonia a bird in a gilded cage." What are you going to do about it . . . after all, manslaughter is a crime in any state.

Then to top it all off the room clerk exclaimed: "Knock knock." After making the expected inquiry as to who was there he smiled: "Depression." In exasperation I inquired "Depression who?" with which he fairly went into ecstasy and replied: "Depression club hasn't brought back your suit yet!"

There seems to be positively no stopping point. The janitor in my building this morning rapped twice on the wall as I came down the steps. "Who's there?" I inquired, fully making up my mind to move from the building. "Dynamite," was the answer, and upon inquiring "Dynamite who?" I was informed: "Dynamite for me, but she wouldn't for you."

There's no telling when or how relief will come. A friend to whom I had explained the fad (in a weaker moment) sprang this one: "Knock, Knock". "Who's there?" "Esslinger." "Esslinger who?" "Esslinger party over the fourth of July." Or there's the one about: "Knock, Knock." "Who's there?" "Idaho." "Idaho who?" "Idaho lot rather go to the seashore than the mountains."

Maybe we can expect some relief from the next session of the Legislature. Anyway, moving along on this wave of insanity that is sweeping the country by press, by word of mouth, and by radio, the HERALD will offer five free tickets to the Peoples Theatre, for the next few weeks, to the five persons sending in the best, most original

Mileage Hints

By J. F. Winchester
Supervisor of Motor Vehicle Equipment, Esso Marketers

YOU have often heard mechanics or automobile enthusiasts talk about "oil pumping," and you have wondered just what they meant. This term indicates that oil is being forced from below the piston to the combustion chamber and out of the exhaust. This action causes excessive oil consumption, a smoky exhaust and carbon accumulations in the combustion chamber. This latter condition may foul the spark plugs, causing missing, and will lead to knocking and valve trouble.

Oil pumping usually results from such things as worn piston rings or cylinder walls, insufficient expansion of the piston rings, worn ring grooves, piston rings improperly fitted to the grooves, pistons fitted with too great a clearance, stuck piston rings, too high an oil pressure or incorrect valve timing.

In some cases oil pumping indicates the need for new piston rings, in other instances it may be necessary not only to install new rings but also to rebore the cylinders. If you note any evidence of oil pumping it is advisable to let a competent mechanic check up and see what's causing the trouble. It will pay you to have whatever is wrong remedied as soon as possible rather than to let the trouble persist and result in excessive oil consumption, fouled plugs and generally inefficient engine operation.

"knock knocks." All you have to do to compete for one of these free tickets is to send or mail in your entry before Thursday of next week. (No telephone calls—PLEASE!) Winning suggestions will be given in our next issue and tickets will be sent the winners by mail. Just address: "Knock Knock Editor," The Herald, Roanoke Rapids.

And our parting shot is "Knock knock;" "Who's there?" The answer is "Oatmeal." Like a soldier who sees his duty and does it, you should inquire: "Oatmeal who?" To which our explanation is "Oatmeal is a serial; Abyssinia," again you inquire "Abyssinia who?" and the parting shot: "Abyssinia next week, with at least five new knock-knocks, if HERALD readers are as original as we think." "In the meantime, try it on your friends—providing, of course, they are not overly affected by the heat—and you are out of throwing distance.

This Man Worries for Women

DON'T worry whether or not the oven of your modern gas range will bake to perfection. The man shown in the photograph did the worrying for you before he would approve the range. He is not a chef as you might suppose—but a technologist making tests at The American Gas Association Laboratory at Cleveland, Ohio.

Baking cookies is one of his jobs.

If the cookies, thin and sensitive to fine shades of temperatures, have baked evenly and uniformly in every corner of the oven after eleven minutes in a temperature of 375 degrees Fahrenheit, they have proven the oven heat distribution is satisfactory. Should one cookie come out less than crisp and golden, the range is considered a baking failure and is turned down.

CAROLINA FARMER DEGREE AWARDED ENOCH DICKENS

Aurelian Springs

Boy Gets Highest Tar Heel Honors

By E. K. VEACH, Aurelian Springs Agricultural Teacher

Enoch Dickens, of the Aurelian Springs Young Tar Heel Farmer Chapter, on July 2nd, received the high honor of the Carolina Farmer Degree by the State Young Tar Heel Association of the Future Farmers of America. He completed his high school career in 1935, but due to not having the State Convention last year he did not receive a degree at that time. Out of 9,382 students in Vocational Agriculture in North Carolina during the year 1935, there were eighteen receiving the degree of Carolina Farmer.

The Carolina Farmer Degree stands for achievements in an agricultural student's farm projects, his high school, and the Young Tar Heel Farmers Club. It also stands for thrift, stamina and leadership. Last, but not least, this degree stands especially for scholarship. In other words, an agricultural student who comes up to the standards of the Carolina Farmers Degree is a "topnotcher" in his school, community and agricultural department.

Enoch has done outstanding supervised practice work during his high school career taking the four years on the average. When in the eighth grade he had eight acres of peanuts for a project with a labor income of $42.71. In the ninth grade he had seven acres of peanuts for a project with a labor income of $112.84. In the tenth grade he became very much interested in making the Carolina Farmer Degree. He carried four projects that year to raise the standard of his supervised practice work. They were as follows: (1) 6 acres corn; (2) 6 acres cotton; (3) 4 acres peanuts; and (4) 300 for the four projects of $721.43. The baby chicks, with a labor income total labor income for his six projects was $876.98. He carried four projects for his eleventh grade work which were not needed for him to qualify for the Degree of Carolina Farmer, but were carried to complete a four years supervised practice program.

Enoch was very active in Young Tar Heel Farmer work. He was ready and willing at all times to help push the work of the Chapter along. By keeping posted on the current happenings of Young Tar Heel Farmer work, he did not wait to be told the things that should be done, but went ahead and did them on his own initiative.

He served on a number of important committees in club work, represented the club in district livestock judging contest two different times, and was vice-president of our Young Tar Heel Farmer Club. He had an average grade of 85 on all of his high school work. He could lead a discussion when placed in charge of group, either in club work or classroom.

This achievement is an honor for Enoch; it is an honor for the club; it is an honor for the school and community; and cannot be praised too highly. Since Enoch is the only member of our club to receive this degree during the eight years it has been organized, we should set this achievement as a goal for the present and future members to work toward. Remember, club members, this honor is attained by special effort on your part thru activities.

Newspaper editor's are asked many questions from day to day and they may become too cynical in their answers after so long a time has passed. Such as one friend of ours whose mail was filled with queries of all sorts. One reader asked him, "Is it unlucky to postpone a wedding?" To which our friend replied, "Not if you keep on postponing it."

The Hertford County Herald, Thad Eure's home-county paper, attributes Thad's phenomenal comeback in the second primary for Secretary of State to a bug whispered in his ear by the Parker Brothers. They advised Thad to save his radio expense and other campaign expense and to spend all his money in the second campaign advertising in the weekly newspapers of the State. This he did and we believe along with the Parker boys that it was an important factor in his victory. No form of advertising is less expensive and more effective than that in the weekly newspaper.

According to Tommy Jenkins Sr., who gets about the city about as much as the next one, there is a real building and repair boom going on in Roanoke Rapids. Just to mention a few he saw today: Jimmy Davis is building a 2 story brick residence in the 900 block on Hamilton; William White is fixing two apartments in the same section; Wiley Warren is building a new frame dwelling in the S. E. division; Bob Shell is painting and repairing his several houses. We hope soon to list all the new homes which have been built in Roanoke Rapids in the past two years. It will be a

VEPCO LINES REACH AURELIAN SPRINGS

The middle of next week will see the completion of the power lines from Roanoke Rapids to Aurelian Springs and it is hoped now that Aurelian Springs High School and thirty-four stores and homes between here and there will be lighted with electricity next Wednesday night.

The line is over 13 miles long and it was hoped to have more regular customers than those who actually signed contracts and have had their places wired. However, reports are that a dozen others will sign up within the next few weeks.

The Virginia Electric & Power Co. plans to start work at once on another Rural Electrification project to Thelma as soon as the rights of way are cleared up.

Today saw the near completion of still another project when the company finished setting poles in the town of Gumberry, a rural line running from Seaboard with 23 customers signed up on the six mile line.

Kerr, will meet with the approval of Mr. Millikin's many friends in Halifax County. In the last primaries, he was a candidate for the House of Representatives, losing in the county but carrying his home precinct of Halifax by overwhelming majorities. He is the son of Magistrate D. Rosemary Takes Lead In Series

Birdsong, Sadler Injured; Weavers Make Comeback

Rosemary No. 3 Spinners are leading in the City Championship series two games to one, but after suffering the loss of their two stars, Sadler and Birdsong, are the underdogs in the remaining games.

Birdsong, star third baseman and pitcher of the Spinners, broke a finger on his right hand in practice last Sunday, while "Kiki" Sadler, the Spinners' center fielder, is knee from sliding in third last Sunday.

In the first game last Saturday the Spinners batted Cashwell and Gossett from the box to win 12-1 in a slam-bang affair that looked more like a comedy than a ball game. Ronald Everette, stellar shortstop of the Spinners, led both teams at bat with three hits for four. Ryals, Moye and Lee closely followed with two each. Renn with two blows and Davis, Carley with one each, led the Weavers. "Lanky" Lee hurled for the Spinners, Gossett and Cashwell for the Weavers.

In the double-header Sunday Rosemary won the first game 5-2. R. Everette, Ryals and Sadler led the Spinners with two hits each. Lee pitched. "Lefty" Davis led the Weavers with two base knocks. Capt. Hux was the runner-up. "Nub" Gossett pitched for the Weavers.

The Weavers turned on the Spinners with a bang in the second game. "Sloppy" Cashwell coming back to pitch the victory 6-3. "Lefty" Davis, Renn, Hux and Ferrell led the attack. Ryals, Outland and Moye led the Spinners. Lee was the losing pitcher.

The two teams will meet again Saturday in a double header and Sunday if necessary. Capt. Hux said today that he was undecided who would start the game Saturday, but it would probably be "Sloppy" Cashwell. Manager Birdsong could not be reached, but Jones will probably start, with Moye doing the catching. The double header will start Saturday promptly at 3 p.m., Simmons Park.

Finals Chatter

We doff our lid to one of the finest sports we have ever met: meet jolly Pete Ferrell, ace left-fielder of the Roanoke Weavers. If there are any prizes for sportsmanship mail them to Pete.

"Gosh darn it" or words to that effect said "Sloppy" Cashwell after coming out of the game Saturday. "I had no business starting," yet old "Sloppy" comes back and wins one Sunday.

"Phooey from me to you" says "Nub" Gossett.

The man with the rifle arm, Ronald Everette of the Spinners, who plays shortstop, used to sit on the porch down on the farm and kill squirrels in the swamp half a mile away with rocks.

And Ryals marches on with his base knocks.

A big hand for the Weavers' third baseman. We won't call his name because last week we made a mistake and called him Lyles. Was he sore!

Who is the blonde that roots for the Weavers. Just want to know.

One unsung hero of the series: "Galloping" Gaile, right fielder of the Spinners.

We nominate for our Hall of Fame this week: "Sweet" Birdsong's middle finger, which is very much broken, and "Kiki" Sadler's badly twisted left knee. Just a finger and a knee, but oh! how important.

"Speed" Hux and his chatter to the batter . . . Paul Bailey for his walking ways . . . Frank Kemp and

That prescription your Doctor gave you. What are you going to do with it? Why have it filled, to be sure.

Where?

HERALD READERS RESPOND TO NEW KNOCK KNOCK FAD

Announce Winners of Free Theatre Tickets

By HOWARD HANCOCK
That Roanoke Rapids has quickly taken up the "Knock-Knock" fad, latest idiosyncrasy to sweep the country, is evidenced by the steady deluge of "knock-knocks" mailed to the Herald since last week when it was announced that prizes would be awarded in the form of five free tickets to the Peoples Theatre for what, in our opinion, was the best five ideas submitted.

It hasn't been an easy task to judge the "knock-knocks" that have been sent in. It is plain to see that the heat is having its effect on the minds of our people. In fact, "Knock-Knocks" would probably be impossible if it weren't for the heat. After looking over the stack of mail, and feeling ourselves incapable of judging the efforts of our readers, we enlisted the services of three outside judges, who vehemently declare they will never forgive us for dragging them into this mess.

Blearily-eyed and befuddled they came into the office to make their report after looking over the entries. Weakly they reported the first prize should be awarded to Nancy Wolhar, 537 Roanoke Ave., for contributing: "Knock-Knock." "Who's there?" "Hiawatha." "Hiawatha who?" "Hiawatha good girl 'til you came along!"

The next four, in their opinion, should go to: Edward B. Smoot, Box 21, City, for: "Window—Window we eat?" J. B. Hutchinson, 660 Williams St., for "Major—Major bite on one!" Ella K. Brown, City, for: "Anita—Anita theatre ticket!" Mildred Stallings, Route 2, Enfield, for: "Sea shell—Sea shell have music!"

Tickets have been mailed the above-mentioned persons. Other contributions that struck the fancy of the judges and are deemed worthy of honorable mention here include: "Bennett—Bennett work," by Mrs. Louise Hutchinson. "Chesterfield—Chesterfield of daisies," by Hattie Humphries. "Mabelline—Mabelline on me for awhile," by Pauline Kendrick. "Matches—Matches for the drinks" by Fritz Wrightson. "Vera—Vera nice girl to see you," by Virginia Nelson. "Waterloo—Waterloo do

"without me," by Ruth Holloway. "Elva—Elva thing, this knock-knock game," by Virginia Bell Vincent. "Yvonne—Yvonne buy a duck," by James Reese. "Lettuce—Lettuce go places and do things," by Margaret Butler. "Molasses—Molasses want theatre passes," by R. M. Pope.

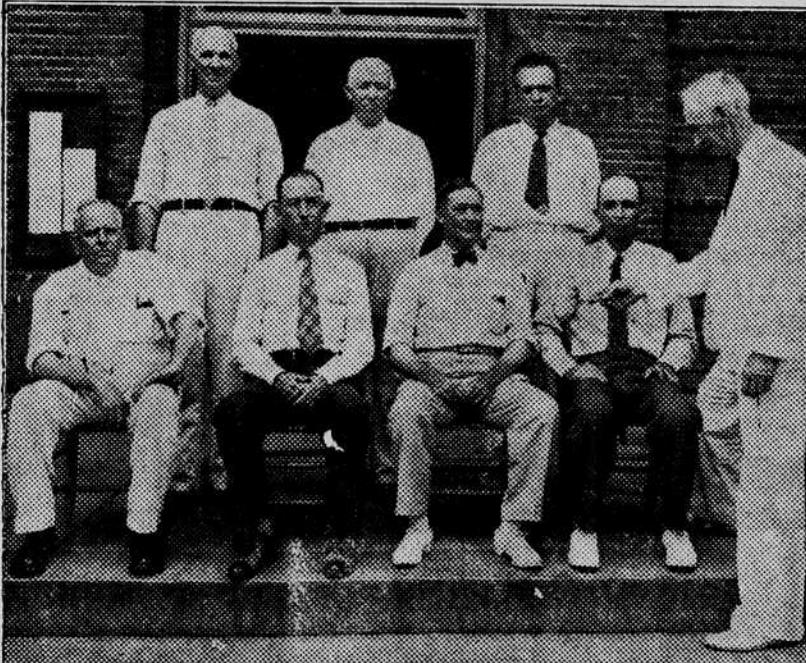

There seems to be no let-up. Even a few hours before press time the mail man continued to bring letters addressed to the "Knock Knock Editor." Looking at random thru the pile we see many that might bring a chuckle. There's the Greek one about "Euripides—Euripides pants and I'll knock your ears off." Then the one about "Tattoo—Tattoo of Liberty," and "Tarzan—Tarzan stripes forever!" Desperate—Desperate is willing but the flesh is weak." "Doily—Doily bird catches the worm." And, to get "rough" a couple of correspondents submit the following: "Omnibus—Omnibus you in the nose," and "Begonia—Begonia bum." Then there's "Ipsilon—Ipsilon way to Tipperary" and "Sinister—Sinister to do something you aren't supposed to do." "Thumb—Thumb fun, eh kid?" "Dionne—Dionne to others as you would have them Dionne to you!" "Conscious—Conscious stop it?" "Eiffel—Eiffel a pun coming on." "McGrundy—McGrundy 'tis of thee." "Hosea—Hosea can you see?" "Titus—Titus an old rum hound!" "Harvey—Harvey men are harvey mice?"

And more such and more such. It's really awful, but so far our condition is comparatively unchanged. Until we fully recover our senses, and as long as our readers continue to think up new "knock knocks" we will be glad to hand out five free tickets to the Peoples. Just mail or send your idea to the "Knock Knock Editor" of the Herald, and while we are on the awful subject, please, no telephone calls! Winners of next week's prizes will be announced in our next edition.

Raise County Tax Rate

(Continued from Page 1) last year; Welfare and Health Departments 5 cents, same as last year; County Debt Service 30 cents as compared to 40 cents last year; Current Expense Schools 4 cents as compared to 3½ cents last year; Debt Service Schools 2 cents as compared to 3 cents last year; Capital Outlay Schools, 28 cents as compared to 8½ cents last year.

While saving ten cents on county debt service, it was necessary to raise the levy for capital outlay on schools because the county must now build all buildings and there have been many new buildings and additions this year and more during the coming year. Last year the county borrowed money to build with and this year has paid it back. It will not borrow any more this year. Last year the special school districts in the county furnished some funds but will not do so this year.

No money from the liquor stores is to be used this year, that money being held by orders of the County Board of Commissioners to meet bond payments when they fall due, after which a substantial cut in county tax rates may be expected.

While the State has taken over the operation of the county schools, it does not furnish enough to efficiently operate them and this difference is made up by the county. The State assumes no indebtedness nor does it furnish any money for erection of new buildings or other capital outlay.

Robbers Strike Twice

The Insurance Co. office, located next door to the Citizens Bank building, was entered by the rear door with a skeleton key. The thieves found an old pick in the room to rear of the office and used this to knock the combination off the cabinet. Taking all cash, they left papers strewn about the office and in the rear room was found a ten, a five and a one dollar bill, evidently dropped by the robbers. The loss is covered by insurance. Manager D. L. Traynor discovered the theft Sunday morning.

The office of the Texas Co., located on the railroad next to Colonial Ice Co., was entered Friday night by prizing off the catch on a window. Picks, chisel and sledge hammer were taken from a tool box on the premises. The small safe was turned over and the picks used to dig thru the steel plate, six inches of a concrete-like substance and the steel lining of the interior. Reaching in thru this hole in the bottom, the thieves took out the cash box and made away with all the cash. Most of the receipts was checks which were not taken. Manager Bob Allen lost a few of his dollars. The balance, belonging to the Oil Co., was insured.

Only clue which might link the two robberies is that both were accomplished with tools found on the premises.

Dear Mr. Hall:

We are very much interested in building up our libraries at Central Prison and at Camp Polk, a camp principally for younger boys. A good many citizens of North Carolina have already donated books for this use but compared with our present population our libraries are inadequate.

I am wondering if you would be good enough to bring this matter to the attention of a group of citizens of your county who are interested in welfare work and ask them to contribute for this purpose any books which they may have which are useless to their households. If you will do this, I feel quite sure that the response will be great. These books can be collected at your office and we will be glad to have someone call for them upon advice from you. Labels have been printed and will be pasted on the books giving the names of the donors.

Assuring you our appreciation of your cooperation in this matter

Seaboard Appoints New Traffic Head

Norfolk, Va.—George B. Rice, nationally known railroad man, and widely experienced freight executive, has been appointed Chief Freight Traffic Officer of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, with jurisdiction over the Freight, Express, Agricultural and Industrial departments. Because of ill health, Charles R. Capps, Chief Traffic Officer, retires after forty-eight years of distinguished service, according to an announcement made to-day by L. R. Powell, Jr., and Henry W. Anderson, Receivers.

Mr. Rice's advancement to the highest traffic executive position at the comparatively youthful age of 51 years is in recognition of his long experience, keen ability and progressive spirit. Starting his railroad career with the Southern Railway in 1901, he has gained wide experience in important positions with several of the leading railroads of the South. Of his thirty-five years of service, twenty-five have been spent with the Seaboard.

Entering the service of the Seaboard in 1911, he filled various important positions in the General Freight Agent's office, and the offices of the First Vice-President in Charge of Traffic, and in 1926 became Assistant Freight Traffic Manager, in 1929 Freight Traffic Manager, and now Chief Freight Traffic Officer, with headquarters at Norfolk, Va.

Mr. C. E. Bell, Passenger Traffic Manager, will be in charge of the Passenger, Dining and Mail departments. Both Mr. Rice and Mr. Bell will continue the progressive policies with which Seaboard has long been identified. This railroad, with its network of lines covering six Southeastern states, and long distinguished for its courtesy and

THE CHURCH PAGE

Several months ago we started a Church Page, at the top of which is listed all the local churches and their locations. We have been running this page every week since and for a time the various churches took advantage of our offer to print church announcements and other news for those interested in keeping up with church activities.

The Laymen's League was responsible for this page. The matter was discussed by them and committees appointed to furnish the necessary news and items of interest.

We intend to keep on running this page, altho lately it has been necessary for us to cull our regular correspondents' news in order to get the type necessary for the page. We even reached the point where we called the various pastors on press day for their sermon announcements, altho it is seldom we wait until the last day for news items.

This week, there will be much comment on the main story on that page because it reflects a controversy in a local church. We were requested to print this letter by the writer. In turn, we ask those whom he accuses to answer in the same way.

We further ask all ministers, including those who have never used this church page, to avail themselves of the opportunity to do so each week. We again ask any layman to use this page in writing on any religious matter.

We will furnish the space and set the type, but we do not feel capable of writing religious articles nor are we clairvoyant enough to anticipate sermon subjects.

We ask the cooperation of all those interested in this page, with the thought in mind that it may do some good in a newspaper read each week by ten thousand persons—can certainly do no harm.

In turn, we are willing to cooperate with the church in any way we possibly can, realizing the far-flung influence for good of that institution.

UNSPOORTSMANLIKE WINNERS

It is well to win and fine to be on the winning side but there is a penalty for winning that must not be overlooked. It is the unwritten law that those who participate in any kind of a fight should be good sports and that the winner especially must be generous with the defeated.

This writer attended the State convention of Young Democratic Clubs and was at the session on Saturday afternoon in the Guilford County courthouse when Dr. Ralph McDonald, the defeated candidate for Governor, entered the courtroom where the session was being held.

It is true the victorious Hoey forces controlled the convention, for it is seldom defeated candidates or their supporters care to attend such func-

LOCAL SCOUT GIVES VIEWS SUMMER CAMP

By LEWIS BAILEY HASTY,
Quartermaster: Troop 143

During the week of July 5-12, Scouts Doyle Dobbins, Raiford Green, A. W. Thomason, Joe Wells, Jr., and Lewis Bailey Hasty, all members of Troop 143, Roanoke Rapids, organized in April, of this year, attended Camp Charles Council Camp for Eastern Carolina Council Scouts. Located 17 miles from Wilson, N. C. We left Roanoke Rapids about 1:30 P. M. Sunday, July 5. We arrived at Camp Charles 4:00 and checked in.

At Camp Charles there were five cabins, one a two-story cabin, one large mess hall, two tents, a craftshop, and shower bath tent. From eight to twelve scouts stayed in each cabin. About fifty scouts attended Camp Charles the week we were there. There were 6 seven day periods this year which were from June 7 till July 19th.

The staff consisted of John J. Sigwald, Camp Director; Ralph H. Mozo, Asst. Camp Director; Needham Bryan, Asst. Camp Director, plus adequate junior staff. R. L. Topping from Bill Alligood's troop was at Camp Charles when we arrived. He had been there 2 or 3 weeks before we arrived. He is going to stay until Sunday, July 19. He was a cabin leader and life saver at camp.

After checking in Sunday afternoon we went in swimming. In about an hour we went out and dressed. We ate supper at 6:30. After supper we had a Campfire Council. We played games, told stories, and sang songs. We then dismissed and went to bed at 9:30.

We got up Monday morning by a bugle at 6:25. We ate breakfast at 7:15. At 8:20 we had inspection. Everyone's bed had to be made up, the floor swept, and everything in order. We studied first aid at 9:00. We ran the scout pace 10. We then passed thrift and safety. At 11:00 we went in swimming and stayed in until 12. We ate lunch at 12:30. We had a rest period from 1:00 until 2:00. We cleaned up around the camp and made repairs at 2:00. We then had leathercraft or archery golf. After this we played mass games. At 5:00 we went in swimming. This was a fun swim. We came out at 6. At 6:30 we ate supper. After supper we went canoeing and boat riding for about an hour. We walked about a mile in the woods to a big rock. We told stories and had a good time. We came back and went to bed.

We got up Tuesday morning at the regular time, 6:25. We ate breakfast about 7:00. At 9:00 we passed signaling. We cooked a quarter pound meat and a potato at 10 o'clock. At 11 we went in swimming an hour. Every morning swim he gave us instructions of learning to swim. At 12:30 we had lunch and then a rest period. In the rest periods we wrote a card back home. Mr. O. M. Wills, our Scout Master, requested this. We followed the same schedule the rest of the week until Saturday. Saturday morning we got up very early and studied about birds. We went around in the woods about camp and saw about 25 different kinds of birds. We had a camporee Saturday afternoon at 2:00, which consisted of knot-tying, log-cutting, signaling, first aid, and nature study. We had a swimming meet Saturday afternoon at 5. During the week we had campfires, handicraft, leathercraft, archery, advancement, recreation, expert supervision, life saving, safe swimming, much fun, sport, great food, canoeing, boating, nature and star study, and hikes. Sunday morning we had a church ceremony at the campfire circle. We ate lunch at 1. We left about 3:30 Sunday afternoon. We all became Second Class Scouts except one.

We all thank Mr. W. H. Pruden and Mr. G. H. Nash for providing transportation to and from camp.

"Everybody gets a slap once in a while," said Judge O'Brien, of Salem, Mass., when he refused to grant a divorce to Mrs. Olga Bronzner. She said her husband slapped her hard and often.

Rules To Govern The Contests

FIRST. We ask your cooperation to make this Field Day a pleasing success. It can be, it will be if all persons stay behind the barriers, and none but Police Officers, Officials, and contestants for that particular race be on the field.

Number 9-15, Leap Frog. Each couple will stand one behind the other at the starting mark; at the word GO, the first runner runs to the 5 yard mark: the leaper runs to the next mark, bends, and his partner leaps over him (and so on). Each leaper must place both hands on the back of his partner that is bent down. There is no other restriction on speed after the first mark.

The last leaper runs to the tape. For example: -B-A-A 5 yards, B 8 yards, A 8 yards, B 8 yards, A 8 yards, B 8 yards, A 8 yards, B 8 yards, A to finish 12 yards. For the boys the distance will be shortened.

Number 6 A, High Jump; each contestant will be allowed three jumps to clear the height of the bar as it then is; failure to clear the bar at that height eliminates the contestant from the event.

Number 17, Scooter Race; it was intended to have this race run with scooters made from roller skates, but as the ground is soft, it has been decided that scooters with two wheels, one back, one front, and not larger than 7 inches in diameter if they have roller bearings, will be allowed.

Number 19, Shoe Race; each contestant must have a pair of shoes or sneakers.

All Sack Races; All contestants must hold up his or her sack with the hand.

Number 21; There will be 12 contestants in each group, lined up one behind the other facing the finish line. The first man passes the ball between his own and the legs of the other eleven. The last man in the line receives the ball and runs to the tape, touching the tape with the ball, then returns to the head of the line, he passes the ball through the legs of the eleven.

and the last man gets the ball and does the same as the previous runner. This continues until all of the 12 have run with the ball, and the first man in the line when the contest started will be the last man to run and at the head of the line at the finish. It is suggested that 12 men be chosen from each mill that will not compete in the other events.

Number 23, Relay Race; four contestants from each mill. The first of the four will run once around the diamond (which will be marked) the second will run twice around the diamond. Fifteen feet will be allowed for transferring the baton. The baton will be a 6 inch cut from old broom handles.

Number 25, Tug of War; a team of 8 men from each mill. Eighteen inches will be allowed for the pull on each side of the starting mark; best two out of three, and ends to be changed after each pull. A 7-8 to one inch rope will be used.

All events on the programme for persons over 16 years of age are for regular mill workers only; in Patterson, Roanoke No. 1 and 2, and Rosemary Mills. All other events for those living in Roanoke Rapids.

Number 24, for men who did not take part in other contests. Spiked shoes will not be allowed in any of the contests. Choose your leaders and get ready for the big day.

There will be many boys and girls in Simmons Park this day, each hoping to have a real happy time; they can have it to the fullest extent. Will the youth and men of this town join in with the committee, so that, each doing his part, there will be no regrets when the day is done. "There are smiles that make us happy."

Will Nelson.

CRIME OF DR. FORBES; JOE E. BROWN COMEDY NEXT AT THE PEOPLES

Mercy Killing Subject of First-of-Week Film Downtown

A DOCTOR is lying helplessly on a bed of pain far down in a cave in Arizona and somehow he gets an overdose of opiate. Now, how did he come by it? That's the big question in "The Crime of Dr. Forbes," which will be shown next Monday-Tuesday at the Peoples.

The State of Arizona says it is murder, done by the famed surgeon's promising young assistant, whose part is taken by Robert Kent, to put the stricken man out of his misery, in other words a sort of "mercy killing." While he lies suffering under the ground, a morbid public above it makes a carnival out of his plight, as the doctor pleads with other physicians to give him enough opiate to send him off to the Great Beyond, which they steadfastly refuse to do.

One day Dr. Forbes (Robert Kent) reports the maimed physician has died. As he was with the sufferer at the time, a woman doctor who hates him, is convinced that Dr. Forbes killed him. The woman physician, whose role is taken by Sara Haden, is quite a hater, as she also despises the wife of the doctor who has just died. She is his assistant, and had loved her boss for years and hoped to be his wife. She is convinced that the girl he married and Dr. Forbes are in love with each other, which is really true, however there have been no shenanigans; everything is strictly on the "up and up" between the two. However, when the woman doctor sees a chance to make trouble for young Forbes and probably point the finger of scandal at the two, she gets a sterner look than ever on her face and hops to it.

Before long handsome Dr. Forbes is in so much hot water he feels like a sterilized hypodermic needle. Then when the woman doctor is exulting in her victory, she finds she is as much to blame for the death of the doctor as the man who is on trial.

"The Crime of Dr. Forbes" is a well-knit drama and maintains an interesting pace, but is far from being a jolly tale. Capable acting is done by Gloria Stuart, the aforementioned Robert Kent, Henry Armetta, J. Edward Bromberg, Taylor Holmes and Alan Dinehart.

MILLIONS HAVE read of the hilarious exploits of Alexander Botts, the whimsical, egotistical tractor salesman and hero of the famous series of stories, "Earthworm Tractors," which have run in the Saturday Evening Post. Now Alexander Botts is brought to life on the screen in the new comedy "Earthworm Tractors" which will be the Wednesday-Thursday attraction next week at the Peoples with no other than the famous wide-mouthed comedian Joe E. Brown in the leading role.

Joe is supported by a notable cast. He has two leading ladies, June Travis and Carol Hughes, and such talented players as Guy Kibbee, Dick Foran, Gene Lockhart, Olin Howland, Joseph Crehan, Sandra Edwards, Charles Wilson, William Davidson, Irving Bacon and Stuart Holmes.

As Botts, Joe E. is in love with a small town girl, but she and her family frown on his suit because he is merely selling gadgets. Disheartened, he finally picks out the biggest thing he can think of to sell, tractors. Knowing nothing about tractors, he writes the Earthworm Company asking for a job and stating that he knows the machine so well he could build it himself.

He is sent to a small town as mechanical assistant to the salesman there. The salesman drinks some of Joe's shoe polish by mistake and passes out, so Joe takes over the sales end. He makes so many colossal blunders he is fired by wire, but by a strange twist of fate a big order is sent in for tractors and Joe is reinstated.

While in the small town he and the daughter of one of his prospects fall in love with each other, but Joe goes back to marry his sweetheart. He finds her already married, and returns but stupidly tells the second about the first girl and is spurned again.

WALTER ABEL of "Three Musketeers" fame, is cast as an old grad returning for his college reunion, and Una Merkel as his former sweetheart who is now a professor's wife in the comedy "We Went to College" which will be shown the Peoples' "bargain day" patrons next Friday. Charles Butterworth, Hugh Herbert and Edith Atwater are other members of the all-comedy cast.

CHARLES STARRETT is the leading man in an extremely well-acted, action packed and entirely plausible Peter B. Kyne story, "Secret Patrol" which will be the Saturday offering on next week's Peoples program. Finis Barton is the leading lady in the outdoor drama.

ELEANORE WHITNEY HAS FIRST TOP DANCE ROLE IN NEW IMPERIAL FILM

Swing Hits the Screen in Tuneful New Picture

"THREE CHEERS for LOVE," gay Paramount "swing musical" scheduled to open Monday-Tuesday at the Imperial, marks the first Hollywood production to feature Eleanore Whitney, said to be the world's fastest tap dancer, in a leading role giving her an opportunity to show her tap-dance skill.

Eleanore made her film debut in "Millions in the Air," in which she had a featured dance spot. In the new picture, Miss Whitney is cast opposite Robert Cummings as a vivacious girl, daughter of a Hollywood movie magnate, who is sent by her step-mother, Veda Ann Borg, to a finishing school. The school is about to close when Eleanore's application arrives.

Though there are no other students and no faculty, William Frawley, vaudeville friend of Headmistress Elizabeth Patterson persuades her to keep it open in order to give his stranded stage troupe a chance to "crash Hollywood," using Eleanore as a contact with her father's studio.

To accomplish the scheme, chorines pose as society girl pupils, while troupers, including Roscoe Karns, Cummings, Grace Bradley, Olympe Bradna, Louis DaPron and Billy Lee, pose as members of the faculty and employes of the school.

Cummings, persuading Miss Whitney to take part in a school performance to which her father is to be invited, discovers that he has fallen in love with her. Their romance grows as they prepare routines for the show.

"TICKET TO PARADISE" with Roger Pryor and Wendy Barrie in the leading roles will provide the screen half of the entertainment next Wednesday at the Imperial, while "Hollywood Holiday" will be seen on the stage.

WHEN WE first saw "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" at the Peoples a few weeks ago, we definitely named it as our nomination for the best picture of 1936, and if there's ever going to be a contest to name the best picture of all time, we should certainly think a long time before we would recommend any picture any higher. The picture will be shown again next Thursday-Friday at the Imperial.

The producers have taken an immortal story, beloved by two generations; selected a superb cast, headed by Sylvia Sidney, Fred MacMurray and Henry Fonda; and have added the magic of outdoor Technicolor photography, which is so natural, so lifelike and so perfect that one loses the sense of being in a theatre, but is constantly convinced that the action is really taking place before his eyes!

The color in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" is just about as fine as it could possibly be. Every slight shade of distinction in the tones of the trees and clouds and gloriously beautiful mountain backgrounds is sharply and naturally defined. The actors and actresses pulse with warm, glowing life, and at all times live and breathe, instead of being merely pictures on the screen.

The story takes us back to the wooded Cumberland Mountains, to the section where deadly feuds are raging among the illiterate mountain families, chief among whom are the Tollivers and the Falins, whose main delight is to lie in ambush and kill each other off. A city engineer (Fred MacMurray) who wants to run a railroad through the Tolliver and Falin land to reach a valuable coal-mine finds himself up against the refusal of the two clans to make any mutual agreements, and in his attempts to overcome this bitter enmity, becomes embroiled with both sides.

Running through "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" is the tender romance between MacMurray and Sylvia Sidney, the primitive, passionate daughter of the hills, with a subtle undercurrent of the anguish brought to the simple mountaineers by their inability to understand modern civilization.

Henry Hathaway's direction is marked by sympathy and intelligence; "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" maintains the same fast-pace interest from start to finish.

THRILLS and DANGERS in the lives of motorcycle patrolmen form the background for "Crash" Donovan," new Universal drama which will be shown next Saturday at the Imperial, with Jack Holt in the leading role, supported by John King, Nan Gray, Eddie Acuff and James Donlan. Holt is seen as a hard-riding member of the California Highway Patrol, and the picture is said to pack plenty of action and thrills.

Miss Blount's Summertime Suggestions

Try July Salads On Hot Summer Days For Change

By Miss Virginia Blount,
Home Service Director.

July Salad

A well-balanced tri-salad offers the solution to the one-dish meal for early summer days. Wash and chill the salad greens, in this case lettuce, chicory and cress. Cut cooked asparagus into inch lengths and marinate in French Dressing. Prepare cubes of tongue and chicken for the second section of the salad, also hard cooked eggs for a garnish. Moisten with mayonnaise. For the corn salad, mix two cups of kernels of cooked corn with an equal amount of cooked baby lima beans. Add two chopped pimento and T. of chopped green pepper and French Dressing. When ready to serve, arrange in the salad bowl, place the three salads and separate with line of watercress.

Vegetable Plate Salad

Select six medium sized tomatoes; cut a slice from the stem end of each tomato after it has been washed, then scoop out the tomato pulp and chill. Make a salmon salad by combining one cup and one-fourth a flaked salmon with one cup of tomato pulp, one half a cup of diced celery, one T. minced green pepper, 1½ t. lemon juice and 2 T. mayonnaise. Marinate six stalks of cooked broccoli. Slice a cucumber and chill. When ready to serve, fill the tomato cups with salmon salad and arrange each cup on a nest of lettuce with a stalk of broccoli and slice of cucumber beside it. Garnish with deviled egg halves and slices of stuffed olives.

Avocado Salad with Lemon Ice

Avocado is the name usually used in Florida, while calavo is the name adopted by California growers to differentiate it from the old alligator pear which is now considered inferior. Choose fruit which is firm to the touch, yet slightly soft and sufficiently ripened for flavor. Cut lengthwise in halves, toward the center, split open and remove the hard pit. Fill the cavity with lemon ice and decorate with thoroughly chilled mayonnaise put through a pastry tube. This is attractive garnished with ivy leaves.

For the lemon ice, mix together two cups of sugar and three cups of water, bring to boiling point and cool the syrup, add one cup of strained lemon juice and freeze in electric refrigerator, beating with electric mixer well twice during the freezing.

A few minutes after she had testified in a case, Mrs. Sadie Baker, 71, of Toledo, O., dropped dead of heart disease in court.

Everyday Cooking Miracles

BY VIRGINIA FRANCIS

Director Hotpoint Electric Cookery Institute

There's a certain day each week and a certain number of days each spring and fall when mops, brooms and curtains rule the whole household. Housecleaning days, of course! And aren't those the days when most of us want to send the offspring up to grandma's and bar the doors to hungry husbands? Takes

Cooker heat units that you can trust them for hours and hours with your most prized dish. Complete meals may be cooked in this large cooker without any exchange of flavors, and meats—even the tough, inexpensive cuts—can be rendered tender and tempting. Real cooking miracles they are. And remember, the Thrift too much time to stop and prepare a meal—to say nothing of going into the kitchen every five minutes to see how the stew is stewing.

And that's another thing! Why is it that stew is almost as synonymous with cleaning day as turkey is with Thanksgiving Day? Is it because stew is one of the least evil of the cooking evils? Whatever the case may be, we are here not to undermine cleaning day and stew, but to uplift them.

The meal problem on busy cleaning days has now been solved to the whole family's advantage. You may carry on the cleaning tasks without kitchen interruptions and still serve the family a fine dinner by preparing this meal in the Thrift Cooker of a modern automatic electric range.

Cooks Complete Meals

The Thrift Cooker is the large economy unit installed in the cooking top of the electric range. Foods may be cooked in this well-insulated container without danger of burning or scorching, and without requiring a watchful eye. In fact, so well controlled and disciplined are the Thrift Cooker is only one feature of the modern electric range.

Now for the "twin image" of one of these Thrift Cooker meals. This meal consists of a combination of fresh, succulent vegetables cooked together in the bottom of the cooker while a luscious salmon loaf is cooked in the top. You'll find it easy and quick to prepare too!

Salmon Loaf With Vegetables

1 large can salmon	2 eggs
1 cup soft bread crumbs	Cauliflower
1 tablespoon chopped	Carrots
parsley	Potatoes
Pepper	Turnips
Few drops onion juice	Beans
1 cup milk

Mix together the first seven ingredients and place in a small mold. Prepare vegetables, leaving the cauliflower whole.

Place 1 cup water in Thrift Cooker with rack in place, and bring to boil on High. Arrange vegetables in Thrift Cooker kettle. Place salmon loaf on top of vegetables. Cover kettle. When steam comes from vent turn to Low. Steam 45-60 minutes.

ENFIELD BOY IS FATALLY INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

Dewey Ray Harris, of Enfield, age eleven, died Saturday night in a Rocky Mount hospital from injuries received late Saturday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile and knocked from the bicycle he was riding near his home about five miles from Enfield. He suffered a fractured skull and a broken leg and was in an unconscious condition until the end came about midnight.

Rev. L. B. Manning, of Fountain, and Rev. D. A. Windham, of Greenville, conducted the funeral services that were held at his home Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Girl friends of the little boy had charge of the many flowers that covered the grave in the family cemetery near the home.

Young Harris is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie D. Harris, a sister, Jean Harris, and a brother, Albert Harris, all of near Enfield.

Birthday Party

Marshall Simpson celebrated his 7th birthday last Wednesday, July 15 at his home on Hamilton Street. Games were played after which refreshments were served to the following:

John and Lucille Williams, Geo. and Hugh McNeil, Helen and Mack Knight, Sammie Wood, Benjamin Webb, Jr., Dorothy Howard, Camilla and Norma Rose Spikes, Elaine Welch, Edward Simpson, and Marshall Simpson.

Stephen Yankoudes tied a large kite around his waist, a stiff breeze came and the coast guards rescued him a 100 yards from Long Island Sound shore.

Eph, a giant circus elephant in Sarasota, Fla., has met many nobles, but when Sally Rand appeared, Eph turned away.

W. L. Clements' Mother Buried At Oak Grove

Funeral services for Mrs. M. E. Clements were conducted Thursday, July 9, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Annie Norwood, Barley, Va. Rev. Morgan, pastor of Ebenezer Church, officiated. The attendance was large and there were many floral tributes.

She is survived by ten children, E. M. Clements and Eugene Clements, Lawrenceville, Va., D. C. Clements and Fred Clements, Suffolk, Va., Wm. L. Clements, Roanoke Rapids, N. C., Mrs. Annie Norwood, Barley, Va., Mrs. R. A. Weaver, Holland, Va., Mrs. T. E. Weaver, Suffolk, Va., Mrs. G. W. Story and Mrs. F. L. Gray, Hopewell, Va., and forty-nine grandchildren, twenty-seven great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

Mrs. Clements was a member of Ebenezer Church in Greenville County and is well-known in this community. If she had lived until Aug. 18 she would have been 77 years old.

Pallbearers were her five sons and one nephew, Claude Norwood of Barley, Va. Flower girls were twelve grandchildren. Interment was in the family cemetery at Oak Grove Church in Northampton County.

Whether it can be regarded as a distinction or not, J. R. Paul, of Slaton, Tex., has served possibly the shortest jail sentence—one minute.

As he asked for a job in the shop of an undertaker, Joseph Bianchi of Philadelphia fell dead.

4th July Picnic

Mr. and Mrs. John House chaperoned a truckload of boys and girls from Calvary and Thelma community on a picnic at Colerain the 4th of July. Swimming and bathing were enjoyed by everyone. But while there we are sorry to learn that little Caswell House fell from some high steps but was not seriously injured.

Grief over the theft of his pet dog, his sole companion, caused the suicide of Henry Porter, of Stratford, Conn.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

PRACTICALLY all foods are either somewhat cheaper or at least no higher than they were a week ago. Butter is no higher, lemons, after a temporary slump, rose again but most fruits and vegetables are very reasonable or cheap.

Meats, particularly beef and lamb, are considerably lower with the greatest difference in forequarter cuts. Broiling and frying chickens are attractively priced. Egg production is keeping up well so that prices, except for the very top grade, are unchanged.

New potatoes are somewhat cheaper and new sweet potatoes are in market. Good sweet corn is now plentiful and cheap.

Here are three menus planned for different budget levels.

right large list and will compare most favorably with any two year period in the history of the city.

In front of the Sinclair Service Station is a model of some prehistoric animal, advertising the products of the oil company. One might say it is most life-like for it moves its long head and neck at just about the same speed historians tell us the actual beast moved. We asked John Smith today what it was. He said, "It is some sort of dinosaur. I don't know its name but I am sure it is neither a zanclodon nor a scelidosaurus." Not knowing what this might lead to, we asked no more questions.

Business looks to be good in Roanoke Rapids. Parking space on the Avenue is always at a premium and this is particularly true on Fridays and Saturdays. We say it looks to be good because we can't tell how many of those cars belong to folks who want to trade at the stores and how many of them belong to merchants and their clerks. We sometimes wonder how many customers a store can lose on Fridays and Saturdays just because the front is lined with parked cars and the prospects drive on down the street, finding a parking place far from where they originally intended to stop. C. C. Shell, president of the Merchants Association, says he intends to bring it up at the next meeting for the steenth time and that he will probably obtain the usual results.

Chester Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Chase, has reason to consider himself the unluckiest of 10,000 people. Last Sunday afternoon, a friend in Philadelphia, where Chet is working for GE, persuaded him to go to a doubleheader at the National League ball park. Chet does not care much for baseball but went along. There were at least ten thousand people there. Chet and his friend walked down the runway to get a soft drink and while they were by the stand, a six pound piece of concrete fell from the grandstand above and hit Chet on the head. He was knocked unconscious and is in bed now suffering from a slight concussion. His parents have been in constant touch with him but have been assured his injury is not serious. What worries Chet is why he had to be the one of the 10,000 to be at the game, to be standing in that spot at that particular time when the concrete fell.

LIFE begins today. It's not the number of birthdays you've had, but the way you feel that counts. Good health is largely a matter of sound living habits and correct eating. Hunger is Nature's call to restore body tissues and relieve weariness. When you are tired and hungry, remember that bread is an outstanding energy food.

When you are hungry, eat a sandwich. Make it with meat, cheese or jam—or just spread thick with good butter. Bread is the good companion of other foods.

Life begins today. Whether you are 7 or 70 bread provides food energy you need.

Pastor Fires Parting Blast

Grantham, Leaving, Says Certain Leaders In His Church Were Dishonest

The Reverend V. H. Grantham, for several years pastor of the Roanoke Rapids Christian Church, leaving to take the pastorate of a church in Florida, fired a parting blast at "certain leaders" in his church here whom he accuses of trying to disown the obligation which he says the church owes him.

Grantham, who was prominent in the past primary election when he visited the county in behalf of certain candidates, claims the church owes him back salary of $1,900, representing two years back salary.

In an open letter to The Herald, the departing minister says a number of the congregation want him paid but a number are working to prevent it. He leaves it to the future to see whether right or wrong will prevail.

Mr. Grantham's letter is as follows:

It is with regret that I write this letter but in fairness to all and justice to my friends I feel that I owe this to the people of Roanoke Rapids since so many people have asked about the church relationship to me in regard to my salary.

I have never found a more consecrated, sacrificing, loyal people than many of the people in this congregation and I owe it to them to speak it openly and boldly. But a faithful few cannot carry all the financial burdens of the church; however the faithful part of the church have struggled under the load of church debts and tried to pay my salary but an opposing element has worked to bar me from getting what the church owes me, although we had a mutual agreement between the church board and myself that the church was to have paid me in full January 1st of this year.

I have endeavored to render my best service to the church for eleven years under very trying conditions which has brought joy mingled with bitterness for our people were discouraged and burdened with old debts, and worshiping in a hall and many said it was impossible to get their church building erected for the church property was called the eye sore in this part of town. With the faith and courage of those who were willing to go forward we accomplished the task of building the church and it stands today a monument to the faith of the faithful.

The church was happy in its progress for several years. Then some began to scatter seed of doubt and dissatisfaction which brought factions into it and in August 1935 I decided to resign as pastor, my resignation being effective Jan. 1st. 1936 when the church was to pay me the balance of salary due which we agreed upon and I have waited to receive it but now they owe me more than $1900.00 which represents two years' salary including the amount I gave off to make my contribution in the work and try to make it agreeable to get the settlement. Certain leaders have tried to disown the obligation which they owe and seemingly are willing to ignore it but they were not under the load of burdens in our building campaign and I fear such dishonesty will treat other obligations lightly.

Moses commanded the Israelites to go forward and they would not go but later they said they would go and Moses told them the Lord would not be with them but they went on and met disaster. I believe church people ought to be outstanding in honesty, truthfulness, morality and righteousness and the religion of Christ will do us that much good if we are His. I don't believe any church will prosper long without it plays the game of life fair to God and man. By their fruits ye shall know them, is the standard Christ gave to us for measurement.

Many people have asked me about how the church was doing on its obligation and lest all should be measured by some, I want this letter to make it plain that a number of the members want me paid, and have, and are doing their duty on it, but a number of them are working to prevent it, so it remains to be seen what the future will bring to us right or wrong. Truth crushed to earth will rise again and I believe right will win in the battle against sin.

My best wishes are that the church will always exalt Christ as head of the church and serve Him acceptably.

V. H. Grantham.

$58,000 MADE IN ONE YEAR

Balance Made In Cash And Paid-Up Stock On Hand

Monday at Halifax, the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board of Halifax County presented a check for twenty-five thousand dollars to the County Board of Commissioners, representing part of the net profits of the first year's operations of ABC stores in the county.

The check was presented by W. A. Thorne, ABC Board chairman, and accepted for the county by Chairman J. Waldo Whittaker. At the same time, Mr. Thorne presented the annual audit of the ABC system for the quarter ending (Continued on Back Page)

—and the car kicked—

A generation ago, when a man appeared on the street with his arm in a sling everybody knew he had been on the wrong side of a mule. Everything is changed today. Automobiles kill folks and they also kick them. This week, Mayor Kelly Jenkins was changing tires by the side of the highway. He had his car jacked up and was in the act of changing a tire when the jack slipped out and the car kicked him into the ditch. His arm pained him but it was not until X-rayed it was discovered it had been fractured. He will wear his arm in a sling for many days.

Folks in Rich Square and Kiwanians last Thursday were introduced to a gentleman of much color or who went by the name "Professor White" despite his blackness. Beneath that lampblack, minstrelgoers recognized their old friend, end-man Roland Johnson, who has a new spel these days when he dons the kinky wig. He is a learned professor discoursing on the wonders of this "scientific age and de wonderments de universal on which Ah prognosticates perpetuations".

H. D. Camp Resigns And County Board Puts Hedgepeth In

H. D. Camp, one of the origin members of the Sanitary Dist Board of Roanoke Rapids wh brought water and sewerage to the city, resigned as a member of the Board at its last monthly meeting.

Vacancies on this Board are filled by the County Board of Commissioners and Monday this vacancy was filled by the County Board when they appointed M. H. Hedgepeth to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Camp.

None of the three first members of the Sanitary Board are now left. J. W. Taylor resigned some time ago due to ill health and A. J. Young resigned several months ago when he moved from the city. Mr. Camp's resignation completes the list of the original board which spent months in getting finances and installing the water and sewage system.

Mr. Camp gave no reason for his resignation but friends say he felt it best to resign after the annual audit was completed for this year in view of the recent election in which he was defeated on a campaign issue of lowering water rates to users. His regular term would have expired in December.

The Sanitary Board is now composed of Dr. W. E. Murphrey, R. E. Cleaton Jr. and M. H. Hedgepeth.

To Hold Hearing For Guardianship Of Robert Shell

A lunacy hearing and appointment of a guardian is scheduled this week for Bob Shell, eccentric citizen of Roanoke Rapids and at one time one of the largest property owners in this section.

He is confined today in the county jail at Halifax where he was taken for safe-keeping by local officers. This is the third attack of this sort he has had in the past year before he returned here to his property.

City Schools Open Monday, Sept. 11

Labor Day Has New Meaning To City Scholars

The Roanoke Rapids City Schools will open for the year on Monday, September 7th, which also happens to be Labor Day.

This date, exactly one month away, will satisfy several of our young friends who have heard that school might start in August. They had other plans for August which they may now fulfill to their hearts' desires.

While it is Labor Day, there will be very little labor done by the pupils, their main duties being to get set on their schedules and find out what they must labor on later.

City Supt. C. W. Davis is expecting a record enrollment this year and predicts that more than 3,000 children will enter the city school system.

Crowded conditions will face them the first months, as work was just started this week on the new school building, the foreman on the job arriving the first of the week and actual construction not beginning until next week. It may be December before the new building is ready for use.

There are thirteen new teachers in the city system this year, five more than the total last year, eight having failed to return. There will be 90 teachers in the Roanoke Rapids Schools the coming year, 76 white and 12 colored.

Complete list of teachers will be printed when their home addresses here are known and other facts of school opening will be given in this newspaper from week to week.

I. W. Moore left Sunday to visit his sister at Broadnax.

IN MEMORIAM HAROLD EUGENE MORRIS

On Thursday, July 28th, at 12:30 P. M., God in His infinite wisdom saw fit to send his death angel to Johnston Willis Hospital in Richmond, Va. and claimed my little nephew, Harold Eugene Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Morris, age 5 years, five months and four days.

It's hard, so hard, to give him up but we know that our Lord doeth all things well; our loss is his gain. Heaven is made dearer and brighter since he's there, for he was one of the jewels his Savior wanted to deck Heaven and help administer around his throne.

Little Gene, as he was known, was a very sweet and lovable child.

He had been critically ill for three weeks with that dreaded disease, spinal meningitis.

Funeral service was held at Corinth Church Thursday, July 30th, at 2 P. M. with Rev. Phipps officiating, and his little body laid to rest in the church cemetery underneath a mound of beautiful flowers.

The pallbearers were his uncles, C. T. Hardy, Bernard Morris, Bonney Morris and Henry Morris.

He is survived by his father and of Clerk Superior Court the sum of $13.00 for use of Dr. B. Weatherers and costs.

L. V. Dail, charged with reckless driving, pleaded guilty. Judgment $25.00 fine and costs.

Allyne Fauchette was hostess Wednesday evening honoring Misses Dorothy Myrick and Marie Morgan of Elizabeth City, who are visiting Miss Myrick's mother, Mrs. W. C. Myrick. Many games and dancing were enjoyed by all, after which lemonade was served. Guests were: Dorothy Myrick, Marie Morgan, Stella Walston, Virginia King, Ruby Blanch King, Louise Morris, Roberta House, Clara King and Katherine Mitchell. M. C. Newsom, Jr., Arnold Hughes, Curtis Butler, and "Dandy" Cagle of Roanoke Rapids, Robert King, Shirley Myrick, Harvey Morris, Archie Hamill, John D. House Jr., Webb Hamill, and Chas. Taylor.

mother, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Morris, grandparents, aunts and uncles, and a host of relatives and friends.

There's a spot in the home That never can be filled;

His sweet little voice Is now silent and still,

While his soul full of sunshine, And his face in a smile,

Is waiting to welcome us after a while.

His little life was a rosebud planted here,

To bloom for the angels in the garden there,

Too precious its perfume for earth to keep,

So beneath a bed of flowers,

We laid him to sleep.

Heaven is more beautiful

That he is there,

And we shall know his smile

Sometime, somewhere.

LIQUOR SALE $280,000 FOR HALIFAX CO.

Pay State Over $7,000 Sales Tax

July 25th was the end of the first actual year of business done by the ABC system of Halifax County and figures from Supervisor J. R. Glasgow show a total business for the year of $280,880.52 with a net profit to Halifax County for the first year's business of $58,278.09.

The financial audit, made each quarter, shows at the end of business on June 30th, the county liquor stores had done a total business of $264,609.31 with a net income of $54,901.82 and had paid to the State in sales tax at that time $7,698.14.

For the quarter ending June 30th, the sales totaled $59,068.01 showing a net profit of $11,996.76 with $1,715.54 paid to State in sales tax.

A substantial amount has been made during the year by the Board in discounting its bill by paying cash for stock and enough money will be kept on hand to always do this. The figures show the ABC Board has netted more than 20 per cent profit on business done and has, at the same time, paid for all fixtures and other equipment necessary to get the system started.

Members of the Control Board are W. A. Thorne, chairman, B. B. Everette and R. Hunter Pope. J. R. Glasgow is Supervisor of all the stores and warehouse and C. S. Vinson, County Auditor, is disbursing agent and pays all bills.

Whatever the Weather, Show Boat Journeys On With Galaxy of Stars

WINTER or summer, rain or shine, the Maxwell House Show Boat goes puff-puff-puffing along, up and down the waterways of America, stopping at river towns, lake towns, seaport towns . . . visiting cities large and small, East and West, North and South. To be sure, it's a make-believe boat but the talented people aboard are very real indeed and known to millions in every corner of the country and in many remote places of the world.

Lenny Ross, leading star of the show, is actually in Europe at the moment, enjoying a well-earned vacation. But the skipper, Captain Henry, is carrying on with the famous Thursday evening series (NBC-Red network, 9 to 10 o'clock, E.D.S.T.) with guest artists and others in the standing cast of entertainers, bringing you music, drama and comedy.

You know all the folk on the show boat and love them all. Gentle voiced Maria, sister of the captain. Sweet Mary Lou. Those incorrigible funsters, Molasses 'n' January. Louise Massey and The Westerners. Genial Gus Haenschen, leader of the orchestra. The girl's trio—Maria Silveira, Virginia George and Lydia Summers. And that glorious ensemble of beautifully blended male and female voices.

Aboard for the summer cruise are two rapidly rising newcomers—tall, lean, bass baritone, Ross Graham, and smiling Walter Cassel, baritone discovered by Lawrence Tibbett and now carving a place for himself in the singing world.

Guest artists who come aboard from time to time are Jessica Drag-onette, Bob Hope and Honey Chile, Virginia Rea, Frank Munn, Ed East and Ralph Dumke, Tim and Irene—the best talent the skipper can sign.

The story is told of a recent wedding at Halifax where the participants had been living together for eight years without benefit of clergy. Unknown to their friends and relatives, the situation was not discovered until another man told he had as much right to see the girl as the so-called husband. How this man found out is not known. The young couple even had a marriage certificate—forged. But now they have a bona-fide one and all is well. All of which makes us wonder—just how much do we know about those about us?

Troop 142 Returns Tuesday

37 SCOUTS CAMP

10 Days At Minnesott Beach

Thirty-seven Boy Scouts of Roanoke Rapids, members of Troop 142, returned Tuesday after a ten day camp at Minnesott Beach where they prepared themselves for the big camp, the National Jamboree, at Washington, D. C., next year.

The Scouts prepared their own camp site, a mile in from the beach, taking care of the drainage, sanitation and other features necessary to make an ideal camp site. The Troop carried its own tents, cooking equipment, etc. The camp was under the personal supervision of Eagle Scouts Gene Shell and Jim Joyner, assisted by Eagle Scouts Carlton Cannon, Jack Vincent and R. L. Topping Jr.

125 tests were given during the camp in 1st and 2nd class Scouting. There are now no Tenderfeet in the Troop, all Scouts having passed from that class. Charles Williams won the medal for the best all-round camper with Chas. Bennett in second place. Coyle Brown, Francis Buck and Earl Topping were tied for third place. Stuffy Lanier won the title of best KP in camp. The Troop staff deserves much credit for handling the details of the camp such as buying supplies, pitching camp, menu, transportation, etc.

The Troop is sending an 8 man swimming team to Tarboro on August 22 to compete for the East Carolina Swimming Championship. Roanoke Rapids will have the highest ranking team in the meet: six Eagle Scouts and two Life Scouts.
